JOHN ELKIN NOW SECOND IN THE RACE

Quaker City Convention Places Pennypacker in First Place.

JUDGE INDORSED BY RESOLUTION

Claims of Attorney General's Boomers Include Many Who Now Oppose Him.

BOTH SIDES ACTIVE AT STATE CAPITAL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, June 5.—Seventy Republican conventions, having a delegate membership of more than 8,000, all of whom were chosen at last night's primaries, were held at 10 o'clock this morning in various parts of the city and nominated candidates for sheriff, coroner, judge of common pleas No. 4, city commissioners, state senators, house of representatives and congress, besides electing the 86 delegates to the state convention to be held next Wednesday at Harrisburg.

In all the conventions, the greatest of harmony prevailed and the leaders had everything their own way. The conventions were all well attended, especially the city conventions. The Gazette of this morning published complete list of the men nominated, and the conventions merely ratified the expression of yesterday's primaries.

Resolutions indorsing Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker for governor, and instructing the 86 delegates from Philadelphia to support him, were enthusiastically and unanimously adopted.

Charles F. Kindred, Mr. Elkin's representative in Philadelphia, claims that primaries were held last night in the Twenty-ninth ward in the interest of the attorney general, and this morning Kindred and a few friends held a curbstone meeting and ratified their work. The scheme, it is said, is to make a fake contest at Harrisburg providing the Elkinites should be able to control the committee on credentials.

Pennypacker Now Has Plurality.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—(Special.)—With the selection in Philadelphia today of the solid delegation from that county in favor of the nomination of Judge Pennypacker for governor, the judge now heads the list of candidates, having more instructed delegates than Mr. Elkin. True, the Elkin boomers are claiming more delegates for their favorite, but this claim contains every uninstructed delegate chosen before Senator Quay declared against the nomination of the attorney general. Many of these delegates already have advised Senators Quay and Penrose that they cannot be counted in the Elkin column. Thus, less than a week before the convention, Mr. Elkin is second in the race, and he probably will hold that position when the first ballot is taken in the convention, although L. A. Watres is coming at a fast pace.

According to advices received by the leaders, the nomination of Judge Pennypacker is certain on the first ballot, unless some of the delegates who have pledged their votes to him are enticed away by the Elkin following. It is known that the Stone machine is working hard and is well supplied with cash and other accessories. All that is necessary for Mr. Pennypacker's friends is to hold on to the votes that have been pledged. In the event that enough delegates are won away to prevent Judge Pennypacker's nomination on the first ballot, the nomination of Mr. Watres is possible, and his friends are on the alert.

Pledges Against Elkin.

The figures of the leaders show 204 delegates pledged against the nomination of Mr. Elkin, without counting the Allegheny county delegation; and, as stated in The Gazette today, there is a strong probability that the delegation may be on the winning side for the first time in years by lining up for the nomination of Judge Pennypacker. Even if it does not line up solidly for Judge Pennypacker, it will at least divide evenly between those two candidates.

The selection of permanent chairman is still open, with chances favorable for Representative Sibley. He has been given until Saturday to decide.

Col. W. R. Andrews and a staff of assistants left for Harrisburg tonight to open headquarters. Senator Penrose will leave tomorrow night for the same destination, and Senator Quay said tonight he expected to go Saturday afternoon.

The W. R. Andrews Republican Club of Workers of this city have decided to attend the convention in a body, and will leave here on Tuesday, over 100 strong. They will wear Pennypacker badges and shout for the nomination of the Philadelphia jurist.

Attorney General's Program.

HARRISBURG, June 5.—(Special.)—Attorney General Elkin left at noon for Johnstown, were he speaks tonight. Tomorrow he goes to Somerset and on Saturday he will come here to stay until after the convention.

The announcement by The Gazette that seven Elkin delegates have pledged their votes to Judge Pennypacker was unpleasant for Gov. Stone and the rest of the state administration. They also heard today from some of their followers that certain other delegates instructed for Elkin would vote with Pennypacker's friends on the temporary organization of the convention. The three delegates from Franklin county are believed to be in this class.

Stone now realizes that the Pennypacker managers are more active than he supposed. This evening two large Pennypacker banners were strung across Market street, almost under the shadow of

DIPLOMATS FEAR FRESH UPHEAVAL IN THE ORIENT

Symptoms in China Are Similar to Those Two Years Ago.

WAR INDEMNITY TOO HEAVY TO BEAR

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 5.—Officials familiar with the Chinese situation are apprehensive about recent events in the Celestial empire. American diplomats fear that events are hurrying toward a situation which may become as serious as that of 1900.

The news of new Boxer uprisings which have been brought by steamer to Victoria since the 1st of June, followed by the cable message from Robert M. McWade, consul at Canton, yesterday, announcing that there had been fighting between the rebels and the Chinese troops along the Tonkin frontier, have tended to increase uneasiness. It is recalled that the Boxer uprising of 1900 began in rumors which no one understood, similar to those that are now coming from China.

Consul McWade said Marshal Su had captured Kwang-Nan, a prefecture on the Yun-Nan frontier, and that the rebels had fled to the hills northwest of Nan-Ning.

Mail advices indicate a Boxer uprising in Southwest Chi-Li, where 30 Chinese officials collecting taxes were killed, and French, Belgian and native missionaries were put to the sword. There was also a movement in the provinces of Honan and Shantung, said to have for its objective Peking.

It is significant that these troubles are within French and German spheres of influence. Whether these uprisings are really being encouraged by the French occupants of Tonkin and the Germans in Shantung, to give a pretext for foreign intervention, or whether they have their inception in a great national feeling of unrest, officials here do not pretent to say.

The people of China are already groaning beneath taxation, which probably they will be unable to pay. The depreciation in the price of silver and the insistence of the European powers that China meet her obligations in gold will cause an increase of the indemnity to be paid by China of nearly $70,000,000.

MANY WEST VIRGINIA MINERS QUIT WORK

Big Strike Is Threatened in Tug River, Flat Top and Elkhorn Fields.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

KEYSTONE, W. VA., June 5.—Since morning in the neighborhood of 1,800 miners have quit work in the Tug river, Flat Top and Elkhorn coal fields in this section. The strike order of the United Mine Workers is not to go into effect until Saturday of this week, but the miners are now coming out, and it is believed that tomorrow probably 5,000 miners will refuse to go to work.

There is no longer any doubt that every member of the organization of the United Mine Workers will quit in these fields Saturday, and operators are now arranging for a meeting of all the operators in the two Virginias to be held at Huntington, W. Va., this week to decide on a plan of action. Several of the leading operators here state emphatically that they are not in favor of granting present demands of miners and that they will let their operations lay idle months rather than concede.

Twenty or more organizers have been at work in the Norfolk & Western and New River fields for a couple of weeks, and thousands have been added to the ranks of the United Mine Workers.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 5.—A strike is threatened in the Linton, Indiana, coal fields. Word was received at the miners' headquarters here today that Lehigh Valley and Pennsylvania Central cars have been set down there. The miners protest against loading them, fearing the coal is to be shipped to an anthracite market. Secretary Wilson is investigating.

WILD MOTOR CAR SEVERELY HURTS BICYCLIST MAYA

Serious Accident on the New Colosseum Track in Allegheny City.

COULD NOT STOP MACHINE

Otto Maya, the crack Erie bicycle rider, who was to have met Benny Munroe in a 25-mile motor-paced race at the Colosseum track in Allegheny on Saturday night, met with a serious accident at the track yesterday afternoon.

After the training for the afternoon was finished Maya and some of the other riders were watching the speed tests of one of the single-pacing machines behind which Maya rides in his races. The rider was about ready to put the machine away for the night when Maya said that he believed he would take a ride around the track on it.

The big machine increased in speed and it soon became evident that it was beyond his control.

Maya by this time was so scared that he could not do anything but hang to the handle bars. After the machine had gone about five miles, when it was on the back stretch and just coming into the turn, instead of making the turn, Maya rode straight up the track. The motor struck against the board at the top of the track and Maya was thrown into the bleacher seats. As soon as it was possible his companions rushed to his assistance.

It was found that his left collarbone was broken and it is thought that one or two of his ribs were fractured. He was removed to the Allegheny General hospital and it will probably be several weeks before he is able to ride again.

WATRES SEES FLINN ABOUT LOCAL VOTE

Scranton Man Tries to Get County Delegation to State Convention.

RESULT OF TALK THEIR SECRET

Maj. Gen. Charles Miller Says That He Will Support John P. Elkin.

MEANS FOUR VOTES FOR STONE MACHINE

Col. Lewis A. Watres may get some votes from Allegheny county. He was here yesterday and had a heart-to-heart talk with ex-Senator William Flinn. The result of the conference is their secret.

Col. Watres expects to be the Republican nominee for governor. His friends think he is the logical candidate, and that conditions will so shape themselves that he will be the winner. For the present the colonel is keeping his counsel.

Col. Watres spent all of yesterday here, leaving for Philadelphia last night. He will go to Harrisburg on Sunday to take charge of his campaign. Regardless of the fact that Flinn has retired from politics, he controls the major portion of the Allegheny county delegation to the convention. If he sees fit to assist Watres the delegates will carry out his instructions.

Flinn Is Silent.

Senator Flinn admits that he saw Watres. He does not feel at liberty to tell what happened. Their talk was of a political nature, and the fact that Watres was seeking support is not denied.

It is the belief that the delegates will leave here Monday night uninstructed. They are scheduled to tell what they will do next Tuesday night. None of the organization lieutenants was able to learn what took place at the conference yesterday.

The friends of Watres are claiming 31 delegates for him on the first ballot. Some people are confident that there will be but one ballot and that Judge Pennypacker will be the nominee. The counties and votes claimed for Watres are: Pike, 1; Wayne, 2; Monroe, 1; Susquehanna, 3; Lackawanna, 8; Luzerne, 5; Columbia, 1; Snyder, 1; Cumberland, 2; Mifflin, 1, and York, 6.

Gen. Miller for Elkin.

Maj. Gen. Charles Miller, of the Pennsylvania National Guard, has declared for Elkin. This declaration will probably mean that the three delegates from Venango and the one from Cameron will be voted for the Stone candidate. Gen. Miller was in Harrisburg yesterday seeing his commander-in-chief. While there he announced that he would favor the candidacy of Elkin.

Gen. Miller stopped over in Harrisburg to discuss the anthracite coal strike. Gov. Stone is said to have cut short the meeting of the strategy board so far as its business referred to the strike, and hurried the general down to the office of

COLONEL LYNCH WILL PUT HEAD IN LION'S MOUTH

Decides to Go to London and Face the Charge of Treason.

CLAIMS SEAT IN COMMONS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, June 5.—The correspondent here of the Associated Press learns that Col. Arthur Lynch has decided to go to London early next week. He will go straight to the house of commons, attempt to take his seat there and abide by the consequences.

Col. Lynch is accused of having fought with the Boers in South Africa. In November of last year he was elected to the house of commons to represent Galway, Ireland. It was announced in London on January 6 that Col. Lynch would be prevented from taking his seat in the house and that as soon as he set foot on English soil he would be arrested on a charge of treason. It is said that warrants for the colonel's arrest are in the hands of the London police.

Col. Lynch has been living in Paris for some time.

LONDON, June 5.—Col. Arthur Lynch, in a letter to William Court Gulley, the speaker of the house of commons, in which he announces his intention of taking his seat, says the end of the war in South Africa opens a new era, that he anticipates a general amnesty and that he would say to those hostile to him, "Do not strike me, but hear me."

FIRST NATIONAL TO ABSORB THE OLD MECHANICS

Merger Calls for $140 a Share for the Stock to Be Taken In.

PLAN APPROVED BY THE DIRECTORS

The First National bank proposes to absorb the Mechanics National bank and the proposition has received the indorsement of those who are principally interested in the Mechanics National. The merger may lead to an increase in the capitalization of the First National, and it is likely that a reorganization of its directorate will be a result of the absorption.

The First National has offered to take over the stock of the Mechanics National at $140 per share. The par value of the stock is $50. On May 7 a small block of Mechanics National bank stock sold on the stock exchange for $132 per share.

Stock Took a Spurt at the Exchange.

Yesterday, after the report that a merger was likely to take place had been put in circulation, Mechanics National stock took a spurt. Sales were made at $150, and later it was bid up to $153. When it leaked out that the First National was offering but $140 a share, olds dropped to $145 at the close. But 18 shares changed hands at the stock exchange.

The directors of the Mechanics National at a meeting yesterday afternoon approved the proposition made by the First National, and decided to submit it to the stockholders with the recommendation that it be accepted. As the members of the board and the friends they control own over two-thirds of the stock of the Mechanics National the merger is certain to be concluded.

Combination a Strong One.

The combination of the two banks will mean one of the strongest financial institutions in the United States. Both banks have a large patronage.

The Mechanics National, at Nos. 220-233 Fourth avenue, is one of the oldest banks in Pittsburgh. It is one of the five original banks started in Pittsburgh in the 50's. It was organized in 1855, and for ten years was known as the Mechanics Bank of Pittsburgh. In 1865 it became a national bank and the capital stock was increased to $500,000.

In the last report to the controller of the currency, April 29, the Mechanics' statement showed loans and discounts of $2,583,178.78. The individual deposits amounted to $2,933,093.70. The surplus and undivided profits footed up $600,-612.60.

The First National bank, at Fifth avenue and Wood street, was first organized in 1852 and received its charter as a national bank in 1863. Its present organization was effected in 1882. The capital stock of the institution is $750,000.

According to its last report the total loans of the First National bank equaled $8,997,681.34. The surplus and undivided profits amounted to $892,456.76.

First National Stock Advances.

In the past two weeks the stock of the First National bank has had several material advances. Sales have been made in that time as low as $498 per share, while the high record of the stock is $650, when the last sale was concluded.

The officers of the First National bank are: President, Charles E. Speer; vice-president, Thomas Wightman; cashier, F. H. Skeiling; assistant cashier, Robert D. Book; directors, Charles E. Speer, Thomas Wightman, W. Harry Brown, W. W. Wilock, W. S. Kuhn, F. H. Skelding, F. L. Roberts, Charles A. Painter, James Laughlin, Jr., James McCrea and Charles Donnelly.

The Mechanics National officials are: President, George J. Gorman; vice-president, Wilson Miller; cashier, Samuel C. Applegate; teller, David C. Wills. The directors are: George J. Gorman, Wilson Miller, William E. Rodgers, James S. Kuhn, Thomas R. River, Francis J. Torrence, Samuel Hamilton, William Hill and Henry Buhl, Jr.

MR. SIBLEY'S FINE EULOGY OF M'KINLEY

Coupled With Eloquent Plea for Passage of Anti-Anarchy Bill.

JUSTICE TOO LONG DELAYED

Galusha A. Grow Favors the Pending Measure in Very Strong Language.

THE DEBATE TO BE CONCLUDED TODAY.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.

Representative Sibley opened the day's debate in the house today on the anarchy bill and his speech was enthusiastically received. As he concluded three-fourths of the members present, headed by Gen. Grosvenor, who left his seat as presiding officer for the purpose, hurried over to Mr. Sibley and warmly congratulated him upon his effort. Mr. Sibley said:

"When loving hands had consigned to Mother Earth the mortal remains of William McKinley, that sense of justice which is so predominant in American character demanded in tones seemingly unmistakable that there should be made the clear and distinct declaration that those who plotted treason to the government and advocated murder of rulers, should find that a land enriched by the blood of patriots and martyrs, that a nation bread and boundless in its area as our own, was all too small to hold those few who should openly conspire for its overthrow. The patriotism of our nation believed that almost the first act of the American congress would be so to legislate that in the future neither a Johann Most nor an Emma Goldman, the most responsible authors of such crime, should escape punishment. If the criminal who commits the overt act is to be punished, how much more should punishment follow those who incite the criminal to the perpetration of his deeds of violence?

Delay Has Been Long.

"Notwithstanding the fact that the first recommendation made by the president in his annual message to congress dealt with the subject, six months have rolled around, and for the first time this is a topic of discussion in this body.

"The republic is young. In the coming generations the history of the present day will be condensed. The names of many men of genius and of patriotism will be forgotten, or but barely mentioned by the historian; but, through the ages, so long as liberty is loved, so long as virtue is revered, the names of Washington, Lincoln, Grant and McKinley will shine with ever increasing brightness. A matchless man, a peerless patriot, rests from his labors, but his works do follow him and the memory of his works and words remains and shall remain, the richest legacy that the fathers of the nation can transmit to their sons. Judged as a statesman, who surpasses him? Judged as a man and a statesman, who is his equal?

The Country's Condition Now and Then.

"Even the children know the condition of the nation, fiscal and industrial, when the chief magistracy of our country was committed to him in trust. He found a deficit in our national budget, and left us with an overwhelming surplus. The previous administration was engaged in selling bonds to meet the expenses of the government. His administration has been engaged in the payment of those bonds and lifting the burden of obligation from its citizenship. In a time of peace, with his predecessor it had been a problem of sufficient revenues; under William McKinley, even with the great expense of carrying on to successful termination two wars waged for humanity, the problem which confronted the present congress was what disposition to make of our surplus revenues. He found the artisans of the nation idle; his policy opened the mills and set them to work. He saw paralysis and stagnation in our industrial and commercial life; his fingers pressed the key and started the wheels of industry in motion. He found capital idle and honest labor begging food at the doors of the soup houses; he saw misery in countless American homes, and opened the windows and let the sunshine of prosperity stream into the homes and hearts of his fellows.

Expansion of Foreign Trade.

"He saw the door closed against the exportation of our products; he threw open to America the markets of the world. He found the value of our exports confined chiefly to our agricultural products, and lived to see our export of manufactured products rival them in value. He found us a nation of importers, and left us on the verge of the successful conquest of the markets of the globe. His administration found us a nation overwhelmed with disaster and almost in despair. He found an army of tramps and Coxey-marchers; he left us an industrial hive, where wage-earners of every class or calling received the highest pecuniary reward their services ever commanded. He found labor in lamentations, and set it forth with songs of rejoicing.

"He found us insular, and has left us a world power, respected not more for the valor of our arms, not more for the genius of our civilization, than for the moderation and mercy manifested to the conquered. He waged a war with Spain, and in less than three years from the outbreak of hostilities gives Spain again to America as her cordial friend. He waged a war in China, and withdrew our successful forces from that country, leaving with the people of China the knowledge that of all the family of nations the United States is her most unselfish friend. He found us, nearly 40 years after the civil war, still divided, and left us truly United States of America.

McKinley as a Politician.

"Not long since one of the personal friends of William McKinley, but of opposite political faith, said, speaking of him: 'He was a great politician,' meaning thereby that he was a wise and successful leader of his party. He was the greatest and best politician, the wisest and most successful party leader, we have ever known. All men could sit at his feet and learn the art of politics as taught by him, love of country, love of man and love of God. Sincerely and reverently serving all three, what man of his mental grasp could fail to lead to victory? From every American home and heart the call should be for more politicians cast in such heroic mold. The people followed his leadership because he ever sought to lead them toward the highlands of life, social, industrial and moral. Recognizing as he did his responsibility to his party, he realized still more his obligations to his fellow men and to his Creator. Ah, truly! here was a 'life pure in its purpose, strong in its strife;' a life dedicated to his country in service, a death consecrated to his country in sacrifice. I do not present him as a flawless man. Earth has produced but one such; but search him with all the x-rays of human criticism and point, if you can, to a character more perfect in its equipoise; candid, brave, patriotic, unselfish, chaste in speech and in thought; temperate, truthful, tender, trusting.

The Crown McKinley Won.

"His political enemies charged him with seeking imperial dominion and aspiring to a crown. They cartooned him as wearing imperial robes, a kingly crown upon his head, and the scepter of power within his hand. Too often, alas! his crown was a thorny one, while the only crown to which he ever aspired he has already attained in the fulfillment of that blessed promise: 'Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.' He needed no scepted wand to make him master, for he was conqueror and ruler over self. Ah, sir, to such a character death comes not as the end, but the beginning, 'not as the curse, but as the coronation.'

"Who does not honor Ohio for the men she has given to the nation? We can rejoice with you, citizens of Ohio, that it was yours to give him to his country. Rear at his home your monument to his greatness and his goodness, and thus shall Ohio still pay higher honors to her own citizenship. But he belonged to us all, of every state and territory and dependency. He belonged to the whole brotherhood of man the wide world 'round, and here at the nation's capital, here at the center of the government, here at the scene of his conflicts and his triumphs, here where all interests unite, here upon ground common to all Americans, let the patriotism and the Christianity of the land join in the erection of an arch which shall stand as much longer than those of ancient Rome, as the virtues of William McKinley surpassed those of the men the citizens of Rome sought to honor. Erect here that monument which shall commemorate his virtues and when the youth of the land who visit the nation's capital shall ask their fathers, 'Why this stately pile?' they shall repeat the story of his life, they shall recount his humble beginnings, his fidelity, his patriotism, the triumphs of his statesmanship, his Christian ministrations, and under the providence of God it shall prove a factor in stimulating untold thousands to higher ideals, until from the very summits of life humanity stands triumphant over the forces of evil.

What Czolgosz Aimed at.

"Goaded by those baser passions which cry out for wider license, ignorance and depravity have struck a blow at liberty; not a blow at one man, but the dagger and the pistol at the heart of 80,000,000 freemen. He whom we shall ever mourn during these mortal lives was stricken, not for any fault, not by reason of any personal grievance, not for some fancied sin of omission or commission, but because he stood as the sign and symbol of representative government. That shot was aimed, not at our national leader, but at our national life. The one is dead. Shall the other also perish? God forbid!

"Can it be possible that any member of this house objects to the general features of this bill? My only criticism of it is that it does not reach far enough. When assassination is publicly advocated, either by Johann Most, an Emma Goldman or other emissaries of the powers of darkness, shall there be no punishment for them beyond a possible $500 fine or one year's imprisonment? Shall the criminal who commits the overt act suffer death and the responsible authors of the overt act escape with a fine? Shall we kill the viper and have no redress against those who hatch vipers and place them in the pathways where the feet of humanity must tread?

The Government Still Lives.

"Shall William McKinley's martyrdom be in vain? No! No! Each drop of his spilled blood calls sternly, not for vengeance, but for justice.

"For the accomplishment of His sovereign purpose, God calls one prophet home and lays his mantle upon the shoulders of another. He removes one master workman, but commits to another builder the erection upon broad foundations, after well-defined plans and in symmetrical proportions, the great temple of liberty. He calls one helmsman to higher service, but consigns the wheel to the strong hand, keen eye, clean brain and stout heart of another pilot, who, in the sunshine and the calm, or through the darkness and amid the mad rush of waters, holds in safety upon her steady course our great ship of state, freighted with the aspirations and destinies of 80,000,000 freemen. In the forefront of conflict one leader falls, but another gathers up the standards of truth and honor and carries them to victory.

"William McKinley is no more, but another, possessed of strength of character, with lofty ideals and undaunted courage, pledged to and determined in the execution of the policies of his predecessor, is clothed with the responsibilities of leadership.

Confidence in the New President.

"He is not to be regarded as the president of a faction or party. He is justly entitled to the confidence of every honest American, and stands as the exponent of our national life; and so long as his trumpet tones for guidance give forth no uncertain sound, so long will the patriotic people of America rally to his support, follow his leadership, cheer his heart, and help to lighten the burdens of him who by providence has been appointed to uphold our national standards, and who in the faithful performance of his duty demonstrates the truth of the statement, 'God buries His workmen, but He carries on their work.'"

Mr. Grow advocated the passage of the bill. The killing of the president, he said, should be stamped as the greatest crime on the statute books. Several other representatives spoke on the bill, some for and some against.

The general debate was ended today except for two speeches, which will be made tomorrow.

Indigestion Caused Suicide.

BALTIMORE, June 5.—George Law Harrison, president of the Alford Sporting Goods Company, shot and almost instantly killed himself today at his home at Stevenson, near this city. He had suffered for several weeks with acute indigestion. Mr. Harrison was a member of the Green Spring Valley Hunt club and was well known socially throughout the east.

ORGANIZATION CONCEDES THAT IT WAS TRICKED

Nomination of John Dalzell by Citizens a Blow to Old Crowd.

HOPING HE WILL REFUSE

Dr. Evans Says That the Congressman Will Accept—The County Committee Will Nominate Him at Its Initial Meeting This Afternoon.

The announcement that the Citizens party county committee will today nominate John Dalzell for congress in the Thirtieth district is not pleasing to the old organization. Effort will be made to have him decline, but even those who will attempt to pull the congressman away from the Citizens nomination are not hopeful they will succeed.

The organization men admit that the Citizens move is a clever piece of politics and that it will likely be costly to them before the battle is over. The nomination of Dalzell will give a number of people in the Eighth district a chance to vote the Citizens ticket who would otherwise have supported the organization candidates in order to make sure that their votes for Dalzell would not be lost.

Chairman Cadwalader Evans says that after the organization of the Citizens county committee today an effort will be made to nominate Dalzell. While he does not attempt to speak for the entire committee, he feels pretty well satisfied that Dalzell will be made the nominee. There will be no other nominations at this time and it is not probable that the ticket will be completed until some time in July. Dr. Evans thinks that Dalzell will accept.

Dr. Evans says that the committee will not be in a hurry in making the selection. Sufficient time will be taken to pick men who will be generally satisfactory. In his opinion the plan of organization of the Citizens, concentrating the power of nominating a ticket in a committee of 82, elected by the whole people of the county, makes it possible for frequent meetings and the requisite deliberation in the shaping of a ticket. He is well pleased with the whole plan of organization and considers it far superior to the organization Flinn devoted years to building.

"The provisional county committee of the Citizens party was disbanded yesterday. It was formed at a meeting in March, at the Monongahela house. The members were: Oliver McClintock, E. Y. Breed, Charles A. O'Brien, William Woods, J. Smiley Wightman, C. S. Crawford, James P. Shaw, Dr. Evans, I. N. Bunton and A. Y. Smith. This committee was organized to effect a permanent organization. By resolution it clothed Dr. Evans with authority to build one. The result of his labors was shown Tuesday. The work of the provisional committee having been finished, it passed out of existence yesterday.

JOHNSON HELD.

Must Stand Examination for Death of Young Woman Caused by "Beauty Mask."

CHICAGO, June 5.—Jurymen at the coroner's inquest today heard the story of the death of Miss May Thompson, who expired May 29 after being treated with a "beauty mask," and held Dr. E. W. Johnson to the grand jury for involuntary manslaughter. The jury decided that death resulted from asphyxiation brought on by paralysis of the respiratory organs. Johnson was held without bail and was taken to the county jail.

Dr. Johnson was arrested several days ago on suspicion of having caused the death of Miss Thompson, but was released by Justice Eberhardt after he had heard the same testimony on which today's verdict was reached.

CADETS WIN HONORS FOR PENNSYLVANIA

THREE WEST POINT GRADUATES AMONG THE HONOR MEN.

First Place Will Be Taken by W. A. Mitchell of Georgia, but the Next Three Are All Filled by Sturdy Boys from Keystone State.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 5.—The military academy board today completed its examinations of the corps of cadets. Tomorrow the cadets, with the exception of the graduating and furlough classes, will go into camp for the summer. It now remains for the board to review the examinations and to classify those examined according to their standing in general order of merit.

It is rather generally conceded that William A. Mitchell of Georgia will head the graduating class, with Cadets Ralston, Hannum and Bell, all of Pennsylvania, and Francis P. Longley of Michigan close followers.

An exhibition of imaginary warfare was given the board of visitors today. A white force of two companies and two machine guns stationed at the north of the post was attacked by a hostile blue force, marching south from target hill. The outposts discovered the advance guard of the blue force and opened fire. The attacking force was composed of four companies and two mountain guns. The entire corps of cadets participated in the battle, the companies being captained by Cadets Longley, Abbott, Hannum, Casad, Kunn and Hinrichs, respectively. The movements of the forces were directed by Capts. Thompson and Sladen and Lieut. Davis. The incessant din of the firing could be heard for miles around. After an hour's conflict the defending forces beat a retreat and their guns were silenced.

Gen. Dick of Ohio, a member of the board of visitors, who has seen many similar drills, says this was the best he ever witnessed.

Attorney General Elkin. There the board was in session for over an hour and the subject discussed was how the northwestern delegation could be corralled for the Stone machine. It was after this conference that Gen. Miller said he was for Elkin. There was great jubilation in the Stone camp over the announcement. Looking through Stone's "specs" these four delegates looked to be a dozen.

Gen. Miller Explains.

Gen. Miller came to Pittsburgh last evening and went to his home in Franklin. He will go to Harrisburg next week to assist Elkin.

"It is true that I am for Elkin," said he. "I am for him because he is the only man in the race that I know, and because I like him and believe he can be elected if nominated. He has always been my friend and I try to be grateful. Had Mr. Sibley been a candidate, I would have favored him. I do not know Judge Pennypacker. I think the delegates from Venango will vote for Elkin. I am also of the opinion that the delegate from Cameron will support him."

Gen. Miller was asked whether he was influenced any in declaring for Elkin because of his holding a commission as major general under Stone. He replied:

"I was not swayed in the least by that. As major general, I stand on my own bottom. I am for John Elkin because I would be ungrateful to be otherwise. I told him two years ago that I would favor his candidacy. When I was appointed major general, Elkin and Stone stood by me, and I never forget a friend."

They Travel Together.

Elkin went from Harrisburg to Johnstown yesterday afternoon. Gen. Miller traveled with him. Gen. Miller has nothing to say about the position of his personal friend and business partner, Congressman Joseph C. Sibley. Elkin's friends are claiming that Sibley will be with him, but so far there has been nothing to indicate where the congressman will land. Gen. Miller will no doubt make a great effort to secure the three votes of Warren and the four from Crawford for Elkin. It is generally believed that both of these counties will support Pennypacker, although Dr. T. L. Flood may try to help Elkin in Crawford.

"How is the situation?" Elkin was asked after his meeting with Miller.

"It is looking better today than it did yesterday," he replied.

"What have you to say about Senator Quay being a candidate for state chairman?"

"I am not saying anything about that; my contest is for governor."

"What about Senator Penrose for temporary chairman of the state convention?"

"Well, we will have something to say about that when the time comes."

ELKIN IN JOHNSTOWN.

Declares He Can Win if Cambria Instructs for Him.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 5.—(Special.)—"It has been the hope of my life," said Attorney General John P. Elkin, in opening his address in the Johnstown opera house tonight, "to become governor of Pennsylvania. I love the people, because they have implanted in their breasts the American idea of fair play. I do not desire and do not expect the nomination and election unless the people freely extend it to me.

"It is no game of lawn tennis, but the fight of the strong men, such as football is. In the battle of this kind, it is essential that every man should take his place. This is no place or time to dodge between the lines.

"There is a great principle of civil government involved in this contest, a principal that must interest you. It has always been the right of any citizen to become a candidate for any office within the gift of the people. No man has the right to decide whether or not I shall be a candidate, and I believe that the people of this state will say so, when they vote.

"I understand that there is a contest in Cambria county. I have no part in it. I simply say that if the people want me to be governor they should let the fact be known. All I ask is fair play. I will not allow trickery or betrayal. I do not care whom you elect for delegates; but if you favor me, say it openly. I can win if Cambria sends her five delegates instructed for me."

The Republican primaries will be held next Saturday and the county convention on Monday.

LONG DISCUSSION HAD OVER PARK IMPROVEMENTS

Common Council Got Into a Wearisome Pow-Wow Last Night.

ORDINANCES WERE PASSED

Measures Calling for Aggregate Expenditures of About $200,000 Were Put Through at Last, and Contracts Will Be Awarded.

Park improvements met unexpected opposition in common council last night, but after a prolonged contest the ordinances providing for them were passed. The discussion was long and at times tiresome, and the unique feature of it was that all who objected admitted they favored the ordinances. President C. S. Crawford gave the debate free rein and several members made over half a dozen speeches on the same question. The improvements aggregate in cost nearly $200,000, and Director J. Guy McCandless is directed to proceed with the award of contracts for this work.

The resolution introduced at the last meeting by W. H. Stevenson of the Fourteenth ward providing for the appointment of a committee to ascertain the number of employes in each department and the salaries of each, and to prepare an ordinance revising salaries, was passed finally last night. All ordinances introduced recently increasing salaries will go to this committee and be reported out with the general ordinance.

This Started the Talking.

The fight on park improvements came when Chairman Joseph G. Armstrong of the committee on parks reported ordinances making the following improvements with the attached cost: Settees in parks, $3,000; swings in parks, $2,500; bulbs and plants, $3,500; music pavilion, Highland park, $10,000; three shelter houses, and the same number of houses of public comfort, Highland park, $15,000; zoological buildings and bear pits, Highland park, $30,000; four shelter houses, Schenley park, $40,000; sheds, storerooms, etc., Schenley park, $50,000; retaining wall from Panther hollow bridge, Schenley park, to Hall of Botany, and a roadway, $15,000; retaining wall near Greenfield avenue bridge, $7,000; repairing and repaving of driveway leading to Greenfield avenue bridge, $14,000.

C. F. Beckert of the Fourteenth ward moved that the ordinances lay over until next meeting, but this was voted down. Mr. Armstrong moved for a suspension of rules and final passage, and this was voted down. Then Dr. G. W. McNeil of the Twenty-first ward moved a reconsideration of the vote which whipped the suspension motion, and the vote was reconsidered and the rule suspended. The ordinances were then read the second time, and several laid aside for separate consideration.

Director McCandless Explained.

Director McCandless was present and explained the improvements, and the torrent of speechmaking began. W. H. Stevenson, William Brand, Dr. G. W. McNeil and Joseph G. Armstrong fought steadily for the passage of the ordinances and finally got all of them through, with the exception of the ordinance providing for the erection of a music pavilion in Highland park, and workshops and stables in Schenley park. On the others the only votes in the negative were cast by Harry A. Lamb, D. F. Crawford, C. F. Beckert and J. K. Wymard.

When the meeting opened John B. Moore of the Seventh ward demanded the reading of the minutes, but President Crawford ruled that a suspension of the rules could do away with the reading of the minutes, and this was done.

Richard McNally of the Thirteenth ward introduced an ordinance transferring $10,000 from the contingent fund to the health fund to be used for the erection of an addition to the pest house. This went to the finance committee.

W. H. Stevenson of the finance committee introduced ordinances putting into effect recommendations in Controller J. L. Larkin's revenue message.

Recreation Ground Provided.

The ordinance providing for the expenditure of $1,500 in improving lower Bedford avenue basin for recreation grounds passed finally.

The ordinance providing for the appointment of an architect to draw plans for a repair shop for the department of public safety was indefinitely postponed upon the motion of Dr. G. W. McNeil.

Joseph G. Armstrong of the Twenty-ninth ward introduced a resolution directing the recorder and director of public works to provide a steam ferryboat to convey people across the Monongahela river near the South Tenth street bridge until the new bridge there is completed. No fare is to be charged for passage on the boat.

A number of ordinances for street improvements, and others for changing the grades of certain streets, were passed finally.

Representative McClain of Lancaster came here to take charge of Elkin's headquarters at the Lochiel, but there was nothing for him to do, and he went back home this evening.

W. R. Andrews, secretary of the state committee, will come here tomorrow to look after the preliminary work of the convention. State Chairman Reeder will open headquarters on Monday.

Congressman Mahon has notified Chairman Penn of the Washington county Republican committee, that he is not a candidate for secretary of internal affairs and does not wish his name to go on the ticket to be voted for on Saturday. Mr. Mahon has sent word to Maj. I. B. Brown that he is for him for secretary of internal affairs.

Three Mercer Delegates for Pennypacker.

SHARON, PA., June 5.—(Special.)—From a trustworthy source it was learned here today that the three Mercer county delegates to the Republican state convention at Harrisburg will line up for Pennypacker. They will not be guided by the action of the alleged "organization," which had a resolution passed recently instructing the delegates to vote for Elkin.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 5.—(Special.)—Headquarters for W. M. Brown, Lawrence county's candidate for lieutenant-governor, will be opened this week. The county delegation will boom Brown enthusiastically.

Among the latest to open under new management at Atlantic City, N. J., is the Hotel Rittenhouse, in New Jersey avenue and the beach, with H. S. Stevens proprietor. The Rittenhouse is a large airy, bright hotel, with a capacity for 400 guests. The bed rooms are large and airy, with private baths tastefully papered and newly furnished, and with electrical call buttons in every room. It is homelike and attractive, and, above all, the table is excellent. The kitchen is modernly fitted up and there has not been a single detail omitted for the comfort and convenience of its patrons. Mr. Stevens, the young proprietor, fully realizes that the way to a man's pocketbook is through his stomach, and a guest once well fed will always be a guest.

EXISTENCE OF THE ASSESSMENT IS ESTABLISHED

Police Sergeants Have Seen the "Yellow Kid" on Their Desks.

FIXED SUM FOR EACH MAN

Patrolmen Pay $9, Sergeants $10, Lieutenants $11, Captains $12. They Do Not Know Who Gets It, or What It is Used For.

The "yellow kid" sub-committee of the councilmanic committee on public safety began its investigation in earnest yesterday afternoon. The testimony that was adduced showed that there is a political assessment now being levied on the police.

The entire force, from inspector down, pays it. A certain specified sum is assessed on the men of each rank. They pay it, not knowing who gets it or what it is used for.

They have all seen the "yellow book" this spring, and many have signed it already. All of the 10 sergeants who testified yesterday said this much. At this point, however, their knowledge suddenly ended.

Beyond it there was a strange ignorance among the witnesses. No one knew how the book came to be on his desk, who brought it around, or when and by whom it was taken away. All the witnesses "thought the contributions voluntary," and several expressed the idea that, being "good Republicans," they had signed and paid to "help the party out." Presumably the few Democrats on the force have a similar love for the "party," and are eager to contribute to the war fund of their political opponents.

Chairman Harry A. Lamb called the committee to order shortly after 4 o'clock, all the members being present. Besides the regular members of the committee were 10 police sergeants who had been summoned as witnesses. These 10 are just half the sergeants employed by the bureau of police.

Had Seen the Book.

Each witness, when he was examined, admitted that he had seen and signed books called by various names, generally a "yellow book," but considered the act entirely voluntary. No person had ordered them to sign the book or had stipulated the exact sum they were to give.

Immediately after the committee was called to order John Lauler offered a resolution giving permission to R. H. Douglas and President Charles S. Crawford to be present and examine the witnesses. President Crawford was present, and as soon as the resolution had been passed he took his place, at the same time placing a convenient chair for the witnesses. Mr. Douglas was not present at the beginning, but came in shortly afterward, through he took no part in the proceedings.

Mr. Crawford asked a great many of the questions, though Chairman Lamb and W. J. Zahniser occasionally asked something. Seated next to Mr. Zahniser was Director A. H. Leslie of the department of public safety, and he prompted his neighbor as to what questions to ask. Almost all were in some way in rebuttal to those Mr. Crawford had just asked. Two stenographers worked at the clerk's desk throughout the meeting.

Testimony of Day.

Immediately after the last witness had been examined Mr. Wymard made a motion that at the next meeting the other 10 police sergeants and certain patrolmen, whose names he read, should be summoned as witnesses. The motion was adopted and the next meeting set for this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Several of the prominent machine members of councils were present, including John Upperman, T. O. Atkinson, Joseph G. Armstrong and S. J. Wainwright, Jr.

The first witness called was Sergeant Calvin Bartley of No. 4 police station. He said that he had not seen a yellow book within the past two or three weeks, but had not signed one for two years. He said that he had seen a yellow and that the sum he paid was $10. He had given money to Inspector Henry Whitehouse, but did not know what was done with it after that. He said that he had never known of a refusal to sign, but he knew of only one man who had signed this year, Inspector William Johnston. So far as he knew there had been no discharges or changes of position for refusal to sign.

David Myers, sergeant at No. 2 police station, was next called. His testimony was practically the same, in response to almost the same questions from Mr. Crawford. He had seen the book, had signed it and had sent the money collected to Ralph Bass, a clerk in the police department at the time. He had not seen a book for some time.

Strange Ignorance.

An effort was made afterward to fasten the responsibility upon the county committee, which organization, it was urged, had sent the books out, but none of the witnesses seemed to be able to say where they came from or what the money was used for. Sergeant David Griffith of No. 6 police station, was called and gave practically the same responses as the others. He had seen and signed the book and given the money to an inspector of police. He said he could afford the contribution, otherwise he would not have signed the book. Sergeant William McCurry, from No. 8 police station, had heard the book called by several names, notably "Little Book," "Small Book" and "Yellow Book." He had seen the book day before yesterday at his station house. It had been brought there last month, but he did not know who brought it nor who had taken it away. The last time he saw the book it had some 53 names on it. The amounts paid, as brought out, were: Sergeants, $10; patrolmen, $9; lieutenants, $11; captains, $12. It was understood that police officers up to inspectors gave to this fund.

Other witnesses called were Sergeants George O'Neill of No. 1 station, Andrew Law of No. 7 station, A. J. Stonerod of No. 3 station, William J. Wallace of No. 1 station, and Edward Logan of No. 5 station. Their testimony was practically the same as the former witnesses. As quickly as the sergeants finished testifying they were sent back to their stations for duty.

The meeting was adjourned until 3 o'clock this afternoon, when the other 10 sergeants will be called.

COMING CHANGES IN GRAND STOCK CO.

LADY GODIVA'S SUCCESS MEANS THAT MISS TRUAX WILL STAR.

Much Speculation Is Rife as to Who the Grand's Leading Lady Will Be Next Season—Manager Huffman on a Still Hunt.

Sarah Truax, leading lady in the stock company at the Grand opera house, will go on the road next season with "Lady Godiva," the new play written for her by Playwright Clarke, unless some unforeseen accident should occur. As to who the "angel" of the enterprise will be there is no definite information. Manager Harry Davis holds first claim to the production by reason of the fact that the play practically belongs to him, but it is understood that in case he does not want to assume managerial control on the road he can stand aside and give other managers a chance at the new property.

There is a vast deal of figuring by managers over a trial venture of a new play that the public rarely hears about, and it is now going on over the future of "Lady Godiva." Miss Kause, the well-known New York dramatic broker and promoter, was in Pittsburgh this week looking the piece over and will return tomorrow to see the effect of certain eliminations and changes that Playwright Clarke is making in the production.

These alterations are necessary in the case of every new stage performance, as only the test of public production will show the weak places. The changes being made in "Lady Godiva" all have reference to lightening the heaviness of the dialogue. Miss Kause believes with proper whipping into shape "Lady Godiva" will go on the road. Her duty will be to induce managers to look the production over, and in case Manager Davis does not want to further control the play, have them put up the funds necessary to promote the road tour with Miss Truax as the star. The confidence of the latter is unbounded, and if disappointment is in store for her she prefers having it come after the outside world has had an opportunity to judge both the merits of the play and her own talents as an actress.

It having been thus definitely settled that Miss Truax will bid farewell to Pittsburgh theatergoers, the question of largest moment to the patrons of the Grand is, who will take her place? This is a problem that Stage Manager J. C. Huffman is trying to solve. He is in Philadelphia this week in consultation with several well-known actresses, and will, if not successful, later shift his field of inquiry to New York and New England. Lizzie Hudson Collier has been mentioned in connection with the place, but Miss Collier is doubtless out of the running because of signed contracts.

It would not be a bad guess to affirm that Henrietta Crosman will be approached on the subject and may possibly be reinstalled in the place from which she went out to make fame and fortune for herself. It is well known that she won the fame, but as to the fortune there is not so much certainty, and it may be that she will find it to her interest to spend a season amid the congenial surroundings of stock company work.

William Ingersoll will come back as leading man, while whatever changes that are likely to be made in the rank and file—and there will be some—are still in a state of uncertainty.

It is intimated that Miss Crosman has been offered a new play, with an especially elaborate production, as an inducement to her to look favorably upon the position of leading woman at the Grand. The place is in itself one of which any actress might be proud, and it may be possible that Miss Crosman would prefer emoluments and honors to the doubtful task of bringing the syndicate to terms.

TWO BIG CHECKS FOR GUSKY ORPHANAGE

C. M. Schwab and F. T. F. Lovejoy Aid the Institution by $5,000 Contributions.

The eleventh annual donation day of the J. M. Gusky orphanage was held yesterday afternoon at the institution. The feature of the gathering was the presentation of two checks, each for $5,000, from Mr. and Mrs. F. T. F. Lovejoy and Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab. This $10,000 was secured by the efforts of two of the women connected with the home, who set out to raise some money for it. Besides this substantial sum several hundred dollars was donated, besides some $600 received earlier in the week.

The buildings of the orphanage were cleaned and decorated for the occasion and looked better than they ever have. A special program had been prepared, in which many of the children living at the institution took part. The formal exercises were held in the chapel of the Bertha Rauh Cohen memorial. Judge Josiah Cohen, treasurer of the board of trustees, presiding.

During the exercises speeches were delivered by Judge Cohen, R. B. Scandrett, attorney for the institution; Rabbi Michael Fried and Louis I. Aarons. Judge Cohen requested Rabbi J. Leonard Levy to acknowledge the generous gifts of Messrs. Lovejoy and Schwab. Between speeches a choir of the children sang beautifully.

The institution was open from 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 8 o'clock last night to allow visitors to inspect it, but the formal exercises were held immediately after 2 o'clock. A great many friends of the orphanage visited it yesterday, many of them making donations, either of money or material of some kind. The day was the most successful ever held.

Traction Cars and 46 Passenger Trains Going Each Way Will Connect Trafford City With Pittsburgh.

The schedule time of P. R. R. to this grand new Westinghouse city from Pittsburgh is 25 to 35 minutes. In addition to the 46 local passenger trains going each way there are 31 through trains. The Pennsylvania Railroad's terminal yards, in reality, will at no far distant date be removed to Trafford City from Pitcairn, and railroad operations of magnitude will be added to the town's money-making activities to give real estate another advance.

The traction line penetrating Trafford City is the Wilmerding and Pitcairn branch of the Pittsburgh Railways Company, with direct connection by transfer to Pittsburgh. Wilmerding is only 2½ miles distant and East Pittsburgh 3½ miles.

The line runs over the property, traversing the immense new steel viaduct, up Brinton Avenue to Second Street, then up Second Street to Cavitt Avenue, along Cavitt to Fifth Avenue, along Fifth Avenue and back to viaduct.

Follow this information when looking at the map showing lots and you will get an intelligent idea as to where the business section of the new city will be.

Today nearly 60 per cent. of the 15,000 workmen employed in the great Westinghouse industries at East Pittsburgh and Wilmerding are worth more money than the average business man, and at least 87 per cent. of this 60 per cent. will have the value of their real estate holdings increased at least 50 per cent. by the monster $1,500,000 extension to be built this summer to the plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

When you consider that all the castings for all the Westinghouse works will be made at Trafford City you will see that the Trafford City industry will have the largest volume of growth, because not one of the Westinghouse industries can grow without compelling the growth of the industry upon which it is dependent for its castings.

The great Westinghouse Foundry interests at Trafford City, in fact, constitute the only industry in the Westinghouse circuit that shares in the success of each and every one of the other Westinghouse industries. That is a point investors should not overlook. It makes Trafford City property the property with unquestionably the greatest future.

Remarkably choice lots for residences will go in this first great sale at:

$100, $150, $200, $250, $300, $350, $400 AND UP.

Lots for business houses and public edifices on the most finely graded, sewered and paved streets, having gas, water and every modern convenience, including traction cars in front of the doors, will be offered at $850. In fact, every lot in this plan has city water and new sanitary system of sewerage.

The easiest monthly payment plan ever adopted on good property will govern transactions where purchasers do not wish to pay all cash.

In other words, terms are as follows:

10 per cent down, balance 3 per cent monthly, with no taxes nor interest until delivery of deed.

On this proposition an investor can step in with $25 or $50 and snap up opportunities which he can dispose of to later arrivals at twice and three times these amounts. Or, he can hold on by paying $7.50, $9, $12 or $15 each month and the lot will pay for itself in a short time by the natural tremendous increase in value bound to result.

15 per cent discount will be given cash purchasers, provided purchaser pays all cash within thirty days or pays one-third cash within thirty days and gives bond and purchase-money mortgage for balance, payable in two equal annual installments with interest.

All lots on residence streets will be sold with restrictions requiring that houses be built back 20 feet from the sidewalks, the company's aim being to have a community possessing beautiful lawns and such surroundings as enterprise and refinement are sure to give.

A policy guaranteeing title will be given free with each lot. Said policy will be issued by the Real Estate Trust Company of Pittsburgh, Capital and Surplus $3,500,000.

We here name at random a number of well-known people who are well-to-do, largely through the judgment they displayed in making real estate investments in towns established and built up by Westinghouse industries:

Sixteen-Hundred Men Now at Work on the Streets of Trafford City.

You will be surprised at the pace progress has set in this model city when you see one army of men after another and team after team at work carrying out the wonderful plan of street improvements, including the most improved sewerage system in the world.

The property occupies a beautiful eminence, just high enough above the monster Westinghouse foundries to be free from smoke, soot and dirt, and every lot is as level as the hand of nature could possibly make it.

A handsome steel viaduct 1,100 feet long spans the manufacturing section, Pennsylvania R. R. and Turtle Creek Valley to the plan from the direction of Pitcairn, and hundreds of thousands of cubic yards of earth are being excavated to make way for other extensive improvements.

A large percentage of the water mains, fireplugs, sidewalks and paving has been laid, and in a few weeks this work will have been completed.

There was never a town built that started with as many or as fine highway improvements.

You have opportunity to see before buying your lot that your investment will be in a city blessed with advantages instead of in a barren suburb. You get a value which you know will turn out handsomely.

People Living in Westinghouse Towns Will Realize the Value of This Opportunity.

The people of East Pittsburgh, Wilmerding, Jeannette and Turtle Creek need not be told of the advantage to be gained by getting on the grounds early at this great sale of Trafford City lots. What they and their neighbors made before when Westinghouse towns were established will make them eager to profit by this even greater opportunity. They know what the million dollars distributed in workmen's wages each month by Westinghouse industries have done for other communities, and it will be easy for them to see what the additional hundreds of thousands of dollars in wages will do for Trafford City real estate.

At their present rate of development the Westinghouse industries will employ in less than five years more than thirty thousand well-paid mechanics. On this basis Trafford City property will go to ten times the prices that will rule at the opening sale.

This is really a conservative estimate, if we take as a criterion what property in the other Westinghouse towns has earned. For instance, business lots that sold in East Pittsburgh twelve years ago at $500 and $600 brought $8,000 and $9,000 less than 30 days ago.

The above is but one of a hundred similar instances of the marvelous increases in value of real estate in the Westinghouse towns, and it makes it impossible for investors who know anything about Westinghouse property to resist the opportunity to buy it.

PRESIDENT CAN NOT INTERFERE IN COAL STRIKE

Statute That Gave Cleveland Power Has Been Repealed.

TROUBLE AT WILKESBARRE

Small Boy Shot in the Back and Fences of the Collieries Destroyed by Fire—Coal Company Officials Ask Authorities for Protection.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 5.—New York's board of trade and transportation based its resolutions asking President Roosevelt to take a hand in arbitrating the coal strike on a law that does not exist. The action has disturbed the president and held out false hopes to the strikers, as the news now comes from the disturbed district that the miners are looking to Mr. Roosevelt to settle the difficulty. The president has no power to appoint a commission of arbitration, and he can only go to the extent of calling the situation to the attention of the Interstate commerce commission in an informal manner. The official criticism in Washington is that the board's resolutions were based on an entire misconception of the executive powers in the matter.

The interstate commerce act of June 1, 1888, empowered the president to appoint a commission to investigate controversies between railroads and other common carriers and their employes. It was under this act that President Cleveland took action in regard to the Pullman car strike.

Section Has Been Repealed.

Section 12 of the mediation and arbitration act of 1898, however, repealed this section of the interstate commerce law, which created boards of arbitration for the settling of labor controversies, so, under the law, President Roosevelt does not feel that he has the power to appoint a commission to investigate the strike as suggested by the resolutions of the New York board.

READING, PA., June 5.—At a meeting of the Reading board of trade held tonight resolutions were introduced asking President Roosevelt to mediate in the anthracite coal strike with a view to bringing about settlement. It was also provided that a copy of the resolutions be forwarded to Washington to be presented to Congressman Green to the president.

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 5.—The spirit of unrest that has been manifesting itself more or less in this city and vicinity during the last few days broke out in earnest at two places in this city tonight, and as a result a boy was dangerously, if not fatally, shot by a guard at the Stanton colliery and a considerable portion of the fence around the Murray colliery was destroyed by fire.

Trouble Occurred Before.

There has been considerable trouble around the Stanton colliery, which is operated by the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, controlled by the Central Railroad of New Jersey. Several nights ago a part of the fence surrounding the place was burned and also a small frame building of the culm bank. Since then other attempts were made to fire the fence. The guards as a result kept close watch.

Tonight while Charles McCann, aged 13 years, was walking along the field outside the fence, it is said that a guard on the inside fired a revolver or rifle at him. The bullet struck the boy in the back. The boy was quickly removed to the Mercy hospital and the police notified. The chief of the Wilkesbarre police, with a squad of men, went to the colliery to arrest the guard, and after some trouble gained an entrance and got their man, but the crowd on the outside was so great and threatening that the police did not dare to take him from the place. At a late hour tonight the crowd was still hanging around the colliery.

Trestle Set on Fire.

Shortly after the shooting the crowd sought vengeance on the company's property and someone set fire to a trestle work. The fire department was summoned and with considerable difficulty put out the blaze. The crowd hampered the firemen in every way.

At the Murray colliery, also operated by the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre company, in the eastern part of the city, a crowd of boys succeeded in burning about 400 feet of a high board fence that surrounded the company's property.

HAZLETON, PA., June 5.—About 100 Slavonian immigrants, fresh from Europe, were brought here tonight in a special car attached to a Lehigh Valley train. They were sent to the A. S. Van Wickle colliery at Colcraine where, it is said, they will be put to work tomorrow. This is the first importation of foreigners to the anthracite coal regions to fill the places of strikers.

PITTSTON, PA., June 5.—The Erie company's work train, carrying non-union men to the mines of the company, was derailed at Hughestown today by running into an obstruction of rocks which had been placed on the tracks. No one was injured.

Protection Asked For.

POTTSVILLE, June 5.—All the coal companies in the county have formally called upon Sheriff Beddall for protection to the workmen and properties. Fire Bosses McCullough and St. Clair were assaulted by a number of men while on their way to work and were badly beaten. The names of the assailants are in the hands of the sheriff.

MAHANOY CITY, PA., June 5.—Under the protection of a cordon of coal and iron police armed with Winchester rifles non-union men were placed in charge of the fires and pumps at Tunnel Ridge colliery of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company today.

SHAMOKIN, PA., June 5.—Owing to the scarcity of non-union men here, the Union and Mineral Coal companies were forced today to put main office clerks to work in the boiler rooms of their collieries. The strikers made no demonstration against them as they walked into the boiler houses.

Pullmen Men Have a Grievance.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—A petition, setting forth their grievances and demanding an advance of wages, is being circulated throughout the country among the Pullman conductors, and now has 5,000 signatures. The petition demands that all new conductors be paid $65 per month for the first six months of their service, $70 the second six months, and $80 after they have served one year.

Oregonians Elect Democrat.

PORTLAND, ORE., June 5.—Complete returns, except from the small precincts, from every county in the state, gives Chamberlain (Dem.) for governor, 511 majority. The discovery of an error in compiling returns from Multnomah county resulted in favor of Chamberlain by 213 votes.

Rochambeau Party at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—President David R. Francis and a delegation of Louisiana Purchase exposition officials, called at the Planters hotel today and met the Rochambeau-Lafayette party, which arrived last night. After the exchange of greetings the party visited the world's fair site and drove over the grounds.

Secretary of the Navy Disapproves Court of Inquiry Findings in Chicago Tar's Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—The navy department will make a statement Saturday as to the outcome of the court of inquiry on board the Chicago at Naples, but it is not expected that the full proceedings of the court, nor even the text of the conclusions, will be published.

It is understood that the court found something to criticise in the conduct of the officers who were arrested, but Secretary Moody does not agree with the conclusions on these points, and consequently they will be disapproved. Thus the outcome will be a vindication in substance, and there will be no further proceedings in the nature of a courtmartial.

COKE PRODUCTION MAKES NEW RECORD

Greatest Output in History of the Connellsville Region.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., June 5.—The Courier will say tomorrow:

Coke production in the Connellsville region last week eclipsed all previous records, reaching within five tons of 250,000 tons. Cars were again plentiful. Every week brings more of them into the market. Last month hundreds of new steel cars were turned out at the shops. The strike of the furnace employes in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys may hamper the coke trade some, but it is not expected that it will seriously affect shipments. The detailed report of the operation and output of the region for the week ending on Saturday, May 31, shows a total of 250,935 tons. Compared with the production of the previous week, 248,571 tons, this was a gain of over 2,000 tons. There were no changes reported in the active or idle lists of ovens. Of the total, 21,425 ovens in the region, 20,653 are active and 772 are idle. The ovens that are idle cannot be started up at present, so practically every oven in the region that is in shape to make coke is fired. The Hecla Coke Company will have 200 new ovens in operation before winter sets in, and the Bessemer Coke Company will have an additional string of ovens making coke at Griffin, in the Lower Connellsville region. The average working time throughout the region last week was good, only a few of the smaller plants running less than six days.

Shipments for the week aggregated 12,400 cars, distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river points, 8,064 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh, 1,841 cars; to points east of Connellsville, 2,635 cars. This was an increase of 1,000 cars, compared with the shipments for the previous week. Shipments from Pittsburgh will be slim this week owing to the furnace strike. Several furnace companies stopped shipments entirely and are taking advantage of high prices in the coal instead of stocking coke on the furnace yards.

The average time made in the Lower Connellsville region was nearly six days last week. Production was 34,955 tons, compared with 34,054 tons the previous week. Shipments were 967 cars, compared with 955 cars the week before.

MAIL CARRIER INDICTED.

Steubenville Man Is Held by Grand Jury for Abstracting Money From Letters.

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—(Special.)—Russell Jimison, a mail carrier of Steubenville, O., was indicted by the grand jury of the United States court here this evening for delaying the delivery of postal cards and abstracting money from letters.

Jimison had been in the postal service in Steubenville for many years. It is alleged he was caught by a decoy letter mailed by one of the postoffice inspectors. For some months citizens had been complaining of the non-delivery of mail and the loss of letters containing money, and suspicion fell upon Jimision. The decoy letter was dropped in a box on his route and failed to reach the proper postal officials. A search of his desk in the office disclosed it secreted in a crevice in the rear.

Guffey of Pittsburgh, is a large stockholder in the concern. He has moved to Canton and will be actively concerned in the management of the plant. Manager Woodcock said that orders had already been booked for 4,253 cars.

COLLEGE BOYS ARE IN REVOLT

Students' Dismissal Causes 30 Others to Leave Juniata.

"WATER CURE" IN HAZING

HUNTINGDON, PA., June 5.—The students at the Juniata college here are in revolt over the dismissal of three of their number—Fred Simpson of Mill Creek, W. Martin Baker of Gettysburg and Harry Bradford of Lewistown—who were found guilty of hazing. Humphrey Delbert of Bedford, who had incurred the displeasure of the students for revealing secrets, was seized by 40 students and given an application of the "water cure."

Today about 30 students left the institution out of sympathy for their expelled comrades, and, it is said, more will follow. The girl students are seriously considering whether they, too, shall voluntarily leave the institution. The faculty and trustees are considering what measures shall be adopted to stop the uprising of the students.

NO VIOLATION OF NEUTRALITY IN LOUISIANA

Port Chalmette Not a British Military Post, Says Secretary Hay.

MULE TRAFFIC WAS LEGAL

No Evidence to Prove the Charge of Recruiting—Col. Crowder's Report on the Subject Submitted to House of Representatives.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., June 5.—The president today sent to the house the report of Col. Crowder, who investigated the charges of Gov. Heard of Louisiana that the neutrality laws were being violated at Chalmette, La.

Secretary Hay, in a letter to the governor of Louisiana dated June 3, sums up the main facts as found by Col. Crowder, and also gives the rules of international usage respecting the sale of goods to parties at war. Mr. Hay says the serious point in the charges, submitted by Mr. Pearson and by the Boer legislative committee of Philadelphia, was that the British authorities had enlisted men in this country for service in South Africa.

The government made particular efforts to find out if there was any basis for this charge, but Mr. Hay says Col. Crowder's report shows that not a single instance could be discovered by him. Moreover, the attorney general on May 12 requested the Boer legislative committee for evidence which would substantiate this charge, but received no information from them on this point.

Real Nature of the Traffic.

Mr. Hay says this charge must be considered not only as unproved, but as having been made without the slightest pretense of justification or proof. Continuing, he says:

"What has been found is that certain officers of the British army, acting in the capacity of purchasing agents and inspectors, have been engaged in the work of buying, collecting and inspecting horses and mules at different places in the United States and shipping them from Chalmette to South Africa. There have been 13 of these officers. The British government some time since ordered the recall of all of them. The men employed under them have all been Americans. The shipments of mules and horses have been continuous, month after month, since the outbreak of the war. The vessels in which they were shipped were of private ownership and not under the control of the British government, and have not the character of military or naval transports.

"Chalmette was not a military camp or post nor a base of military supplies, as the terms are defined by standard military authorities; nor in any sense save such as would make a flouring mill or a packing house a base of military supplies, if flour or canned meat were shipped from either through a series of months to any belligerent power. Chalmette is simply a shipping station for mules."

Following Historic Policy.

Mr. Hay next addresses himself to the law in the matter and says our duty has been laid down again and again, quoting Thomas Jefferson, Alexander Hamilton, President Pierce, Chief Justice Chase and President Grant. In conclusion Mr. Hay says:

"The president regards it as evident that what was asked for by Mr. Pearson was the reversal of the consistent policy of the United States since the formation of our government. The right of our citizens to sell horses and mules and to ship them from New Orleans to any other port is as undoubted as their right to ship flour and meat, whether for the use of civilians or soldiers of the country of either belligerent. There is no shadow of excuse for the claim that there has been any violation of the duties and obligations of neutrality on the part of this nation."

Col. Crowder's report is thus summed up:

First—The British commission is a bureau of the English army administration.

Second—As organized by these officers, Chalmette station is a governmental shipping agency for but one class of military supplies, and it has not the character of a base of military supplies, nor that of a military camp or post.

No Recruiting Countenanced.

Third—No attempts to recruit to the British army have been made at Chalmette station, nor does the evidence disclose any such attempts at other points in the United States. A few mulcteers were recruits, but this was against the orders of the British government.

Fourth—All shipments have been from the port of New Orleans to South African ports upon vessels chartered by the British admiralty, under ordinary commercial charters.

Fifth—The transactions of the commission aggregate, $17,939,350 from October, 1899, to March, 1902, with an average monthly value of $567,678. The total shipments are given at 94,877 horses and 75,106 mules, 63 different vessels being engaged in the trade, making 160 voyages.

Sixth—All supplies have been for the use of the English army in South Africa, the trade having no existence prior to the war.

Col. Crowder adds that the port of New Orleans was extensively used in 1898-7 to supply the Spanish army then engaged in prosecuting hostilities in Cuba.

A BIG EARNER.

Good Food Pays Better Than Any Other Investment.

Money put into properly selected food that brings health and maintains it is better invested than any other way.

A man who has spent hundreds of dollars in medicines to try and get well writes that the past year he has used 156 packages of Grape-Nuts. He says: "Several years ago I had two severe shocks of paralysis, bringing on general nervous debility. I was not able to do work of any kind for several years.

"I doctored hundreds of dollars away. About a year ago I began using Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food and have so steadily gained in strength and health that since last July I have worked every day at collecting for a large company, walking several miles a day, and have not enjoyed better health for over 20 years than I do now. I am able to use all kinds of food, but do not eat much besides Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee." W. F. Alfro, 207 Chestnut St., Scranton, Pa.

Don't overlook the recipe book in each package of Grape-Nuts.

GOMEZ REFUSES PENSION.

Cuban General Will Not Accept Reward Until Other Soldiers Are Paid.

HAVANA, June 5.—Gen. Maximo Gomez has published an open letter here in which he refuses to accept the annual pension of $6,000 provided for him in a resolution which is now before the Cuban house of representatives.

Gen. Gomez asks his friends to defeat the resolution, saying it would be unfair for him to accept any money so long as the other Cuban soldiers have not been provided for. Gen. Gomez asserts he has a bill against the government for war services which some day will have to be paid, but that he is willing to wait until such time as Cuba can pay all her soldiers.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Fourth of July Fund Booming.

Yesterday the Fourth of July fund almost doubled. If the same rate of increase is maintained for a few days it will be ample for the purpose. The committees can then go ahead on a scale commensurate with the importance of the occasion. It is encouraging to note the prompt response to the reminder that the time is limited during which the fund may be subscribed and there is every reason to believe Pittsburghers will continue adding to it until the sum is sufficient to guarantee what has been promised to President Roosevelt—the greatest celebration in the history of the city. Pittsburgh is in the center of the prosperity belt. It can afford a demonstration this year that will live in the memory of the rising generation.

Pennypacker Gets 93 Delegates.

The Republican primaries in Philadelphia have added 86 delegates to the Pennypacker column. The day of the primaries assurances were given that seven other delegates who had been counted for Elkin would be for Pennypacker. This addition of 93 delegates to the support of Judge Pennypacker in one day notably fortifies his position as the candidate of the people against the Stone influence in public affairs. The declaration is made in Washington that the judge will go into the convention with more than 200 delegates. As but 189 delegates are required to nominate, this means that the men who are accustomed to read final results in returns from delegate elections count confidently on the nomination of Pennypacker on the first ballot. If their estimates work out, and they predict with the prestige of prophets who have pointed out many victories in advance, it must not be overlooked that former Lieutenant Governor Waires has contributed largely to the result by his active work as a representative of reform within party lines. His efforts have been no inconsiderable factor in the fight against the Stone influence.

A Work for the People.

Common council last night passed the ordinance for shelter houses and other comforts and conveniences in the parks. The ordinance now goes to the select branch and should be speedily passed by that body. Park improvements of this nature are the things that everyone is interested in, and especially that large body of the people who depend wholly on the parks for their summer outings. Splendid drives have been created at immense cost for those who have carriages and automobiles, but little beyond the planting of trees has been done for the benefit of those who perforce go afoot. The Gazette has long urged improvements for their benefit and is glad to see the matter so well advanced in councils. Its final passage by the select branch should not be delayed a moment longer than necessary. The work that is proposed for the benefit of the people is little enough, but it is a start, and we hope to see it followed up year by year until the parks will be real pleasure places for those residents of the city who are unable to go to the mountains or the seashore for rest and recreation.

Indiana Democratic Convention.

The Indiana Democratic platform is principally devoted to denouncing. It denounces the doctrine of protection, the Dingley tariff, the Republican Philippine policy, the Republican governor of Indiana and so on to the end of the chapter. The chief official of the state is condemned because he refused to turn over to the governor of Kentucky certain Republicans who were wanted in that state to be tried on the charge of murdering Goebel. Indiana Democrats do no credit to themselves in making common cause with the political persecutors of prominent Kentucky Republicans.

The convention was quite convinced that the Republican government of the United States is not treating the Filipinos properly, but there was much divergence of opinion as to the proper method. Some of the delegates wanted the instantaneous scuttle project adopted; but these were outvoted and the convention decided that the United States ought to announce its intention to establish an independent government for the Filipinos and guarantee to protect it against the world. In other words, they would have the United States relinquish all voice in the government of the islands, but undertake to defend them against all comers, regardless of provocation or expense.

William Jennings Bryan's friends were active, but they were unable to get a plank put into the platform indorsing the Nebraska man and his views. The Hoosier Democrats are clearly of the opinion that Bryanism is a good thing to cut loose from.

Again the Controller's Powers.

The demurrer of Gov. Stone's Mercantile Trust Company to Controller Larkin's answer naturally sticks closely to the law points. It is in its general purport a denial of the right or authority of the controller to ascertain for himself whether money for which warrants have been issued by a city department is earned. It also denies the right of the controller to be represented in court by private counsel. In other words, the Mercantile Trust Company takes the ground that the controller must be represented by the city's law department, made up of persons appointed by the city recorder, who is morally on the defensive along with the trust company. If the claim of the concern that is completing the Highland reservoir contract is good law it can be seen where it leaves the city. With the city administration in a position of partisan friendliness to a contractor and his bondsmen the controller would be powerless to contest, even notoriously fraudulent claims. In the matter under consideration the controller stood ready to approve the warrant if permitted to satisfy himself that the work had been done according to specifications. It was a reasonable request and there could have been no good objection to permitting him to do so. While it may develop that the trust company was within its legal rights in refusing the controller access to the work, it has not helped the case of its political friends by so doing. Neither has it ended the matter, even should the decision of the court be favorable to it, for a citizen, a taxpayer, has rights in the premises, and the barriers placed in the way of the controller undoubtedly will fan suspicion to such a degree that if he is beaten on more law points the matter will be brought into court in a new form. The work done may be, in fact, as unassailable as Caesar's wife, but the way to prove it is to throw it open to inspection. If the company does not do so it will be done in another way. It is merely adding to unnecessary delay and arousing suspicion to pursue the course that has been followed.

The Yellow Book and the Police.

It was established yesterday out of the mouths of a number of witnesses that it has been the custom to collect money from members of the police force of the city of Pittsburgh and that the "yellow book" contains the record of what wicked reformers hold to be assessments. The "voluntary" character of these payments is nailed fast by the testimony of several witnesses that they did not know to what purpose the money was to be devoted. The matter being brought to their notice by a superior in the bureau they, of course, gave freely and without question. It is further established by the testimony that the amounts members of the force were asked (?) to contribute were graded according to the rank—in other words, the pay—of the contributors, and anyone ought to be able to see with half an eye that this puts it beyond dispute that it was all a free-will offering. Unreasonable people may have a notion that the voluntariness of the contributions would have been better established had the witnesses shown that they were asked how much they would give and that they knew to what purpose the money was to be devoted. But it appears that they gave with childlike faith and the amounts that they were told were expected of them. Really, could anything be more voluntary?

Science in the Senate.

A new turn has been given the senate discussion of the Nicaraguan canal bill by the tragic events of the past month in the Windward islands. Partisans of the Nicaragua and of the Panama routes have undertaken to settle the question of danger to the proposed canal from possible seismic disturbances in the future. The venerable Senator Morgan has been called upon to make vigorous denial of the assumption that the Nicaragua route offers the greater chance of being disturbed by earthquakes or volcanic action.

Incidentally this new cause for prolonging the canal bill discussion has developed a spirit of scientific research in the senate that may prove of value in broadening the senatorial field of knowledge, though it will not promote a speedy decision of the main question. This brings us back in a quite natural way to the suggestion that congress pass the whole matter up to the president, who can be trusted to make an impartial disposition of it. Senator Hanna added to his reputation for level-headedness when he yesterday advocated this course. It is, all things considered, the sensible one.

The Innocent Victim.

After a strike of nearly two weeks' duration, marked by grave breaches of the peace, the Chicago meat packers and the teamsters have reached an agreement and the trouble is ended in concessions by both sides that might well have been made earlier.

The Chicago strike is but one of many in which stubbornness has proved costly to principals and public. Practically the same conditions have characterized many other strikes, and always to the detriment of the public. In the anthracite coal strike that portion of the public which consumes coal is suffering because of the shortage of fuel. In every strike of appreciable magnitude people who have no active interest in the points of dispute are injuriously affected, but their rights are never taken into consideration. This is a condition which calls for relief, and in time the public may provide for it by ordaining the means to interfere in disputes of which it is the innocent victim for the purpose of settling them in its own interest.

First Indirect Benefit.

One of the first benefits derived from the Morgan combination of steamships is the promotion of a first-class steamship service in connection with the Canadian Pacific railroad. The scheme includes a line of fast mail steamers on both the Atlantic and Pacific, composed of vessels capable of steaming 25 knots an hour and auxiliary lines of freighters of 6,000 to 7,000 tons burden. This additional shipping should insure a decided reduction of ocean freights to stimulate American exports. Of course, the new combination may be expected to discriminate in favor of British commerce, as other lines have done, but there will be protection for American shippers in the Morgan combination. The only drawback to the plan as outlined, having the Cunard and Beaver lines as basis, is the difficulty of obtaining subsidies from Great Britain, Canada, Australia and other parts of the British empire. That difficulty may be overcome.

The report on the Port Chalmette matter comes along just when everyone is glad that a peace conclusion has been arrived at in South Africa. As the report relieves the British government of the charge of conducting a recruiting station on American soil no sweet bells will be jangled out of tune. King Edward may, therefore, proceed with his coronation preparations satisfied that there are no awkward American questions for Joseph Choate to poke at Salisbury to make Whitelaw Reid feel uneasy in his knee breeches, or to confront Michael Herbert when he comes to take the lamented Pauncefote's place.

It will hereafter be proper to say Doctor Marcus A. Hanna, Dickinson college having conferred upon the distinguished Ohioan the title of doctor of laws. "Mark Twain" (Samuel L. Clemens) was also similarly honored a few days ago. The season of honorary preferment starts off well with two names, one representing the highest order of humorous literature and the other the most adroit science of political leadership known in this country.

The appointment of a successor to the late Consul Prentiss, who lost his life in the Martinique disaster, has been promptly made, and the fact that a man of fine capabilities was so quickly found to supply the dangerous mission is a tribute to the pluck and patriotism of the American officeseeker.

It has grown so common for the Philadelphia politicians to make a junketing expedition out of the various journeyings of the Liberty Bell that the rest of the nation will begin to question whether the cradle of independence doesn't need a new rocker.

An up-the-state postmaster has resigned his job because his office was blown to atoms by dynamite a few evenings ago. It would take more than that to pry an Ohio man loose from a job.

In a recent manifesto the duke of Orleans declares that it is his purpose to resuscitate the throne of France. As a "resuscitator" the duke has hitherto been considerable of a failure.

Perhaps King Edward desires his telegram of congratulations to Kitchener to be accepted in a Pickwickian sense only.

The South African war heroes will now step up to the cashier's desk and cash in their commutation tickets.

Things have quieted down in Chicago and South Africa, but the Yaqui uprising is spreading.

The Indiana Democrats are electioneering for a good stout jolt in the Commoner.

Butler county seems to be firmly addicted to the strenuous habit.

The Harrisburg Mt. Pelee is already beginning to sizzle and smoke.

FAILED TO LAND.

Senator Hanna Could Not Secure California's Influence In Favor of Panama Route.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—President Newhall, of the chamber of commerce, has received from Senator Hanna a telegram in which the latter says:

"As a member of the Isthmian canal commission of the senate, I am decidedly in favor of the Panama route, which has the unanimous support of the commission appointed by the president, and as a business proposition, is the route we should choose. I wish you would write your senators here to join with me in securing the passage of that bill. They seem to be in doubt as to the sentiment in California, and are among the very few Republican senators who have not announced in favor of the Panama route. You can trust my judgment in this matter."

President Newhall sent the following telegram in reply:

"After conferring with the presidents of commercial bodies here, I am instructed to say that the Pacific coast wants an isthmian canal. I regret that the question should arise regarding route. The commercial bodies of this city always advocated the Nicaragua route. Refer the matter to our senators and representatives, who are thoroughly conversant with the subject."

"THE YANKEE MORGANEERS."

(Air: "The British Grenadiers.")

Some talk of Alexander, and some of Hercules,
Of Bonaparte and Caesar, and conquerors like these;
But none of these great forces in any way compares
With a tow, row, row, row, row, row, with the Yankee Morganeers.

They fought with swords and muskets, these doddering of old,
They could not know, as we do, the only weapon's gold.
Our wealth exceeds all counting, 'tis far beyond De Beers—

Where Nelson drew his cutlass, our Pierpont draws a check,
His little glass-walled office his only quarterdeck.
He rattles trusts and corners about the foemen's ears.
With a tow, row, row, row, row, row, for the Yankee Morganeers.

And when our work is over and England's wholly ours,
And Stars and Stripes float gaily from all her masts and towers,
We'll sip our morning cocktail within the house of peers,

Signs That Subway May Be Finished Some Time

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 5.

One of the indications that the rapid transit tunnel in New York is approaching completion is that so many streets which were for months nothing but ravines, with narrow paths for horses and men, have been covered in and look almost like their original selves again. Especially is this observable down-town. Fourth avenue and other important thoroughfares which have been chaotic for more than a year are rapidly resuming their old appearance. I do not mean that all signs of the subway have disappeared. It is possible to walk for miles by the side of the open trench in which laborers are busy getting the underground route ready, and without going very far up-town, either. But the worst is over. In Printing House square much of the trouble has ceased, and although a horse falls down the big hole occasionally—as one actually did about a week ago—the public is not too forcibly reminded by its discomforts that London's "tupenny tube" is soon to be reproduced here on a gigantic and improved scale. Some sections of the subway are entirely finished, and a number of stations are so far advanced that they can be taken as samples of what will be used all along the line. Longacre square was a horror for a long time. The opening there was one of the most ragged-looking and unpleasant anywhere on the route of the work. Day and night gangs of loud-mouthed foremen yelled at their hosts of laborers, while the creaking and groaning of derrick-chains and ropes were incessant. Dust blew up in clouds, and the gorgeous actors and men-about-town that frequent that neighborhood suffered agonies as they saw the stains on their precious garments. This is nearly past. It is still a steeple-chasing task to get across the square, and one has to take chances on the temporary bridge over the sidewalk on the west side of Broadway; but it looks as if only a few more weeks of it remain for the patient Broadwayite. There is a disposition to cover it in as rapidly as men can be made to work, and by the time the fall is here, Longacre square will be as pleasant a promenade as any other part of Broadway.

Will Take Coronation Views.

E. W. Hiteld, the photographer, formerly of Pittsburgh, but who now has a studio in New York in the shadow of the Waldorf-Astoria, sailed for Liverpool yesterday on the Majestic. He is going to London to take photographs of persons and places in coronation week.

On the Trail of a Jewelry Thief.

Twenty-five detectives are working on the mysterious theft of Mrs. Kingdon's jewelry at the Waldorf-Astoria. The police have a clue. They think that a pal of John Barkley, now in prison in London, charged with trying to rob the home of J. P. Morgan, Jr., was at the Waldorf yesterday, has gone away and is supposed to be in Philadelphia. An interesting aspect of the case is the difference in the estimate of the value of the stolen jewelry. It runs all the way from $10,000 to $2,000. Mrs. Kingdon is the mother of Mrs. George J. Gould, and on that account her loss is regarded with awe and extreme sympathy.

Hepner, the Wigmaker, Weds Again.

William Hepner, who makes theatrical wigs for a living and is well known in Pittsburgh as formerly the husband of Louise Willis, the comic opera singer, was married today to Frances Lilian Hutoff, daughter of a very wealthy plate glass importer. The wedding took place in a hall at Madison avenue and Fifty-ninth street in the presence of a select circle of friends. The bride's father has given the couple a house in Harlem valued at $50,000, which they will occupy on their return from a bridal trip to the Pacific coast.

Exciting Chase After a Vagrant.

There was an interesting chase by policemen after a vagrant in Park Row this morning. One of the waifs that sit on the benches in City Hall park at night became so exasperated at the reflection that he had no money to pay for breakfast that he hurled a cobblestone through a clothier's window close by and took five pairs of trousers. A policeman saw him, and with a "view halloo" dashed after him as he made for the rapid transit subway bridges in Printing House square. Soon there were six policemen after the thief, as he dodged them from one bridge to another and in and out among horses and wagons. He ran into a policeman's arms at last, and the hunt was over. He got a breakfast at the expense of the sergeant at the police station, and was then placed in a cell, while the six policemen fanned themselves with their helmets and "cussed" under their breath.

Excitement Started by Gazette Item.

When someone on the Gazette the other day declared that the original "Gordian knot" could be untied, and that Alexander's heroic method of dealing with the mystery was unnecessary if he had had a little more patience, it was not supposed that the paragraph would set New York by the ears; but it has, so far as one of the evening papers here can control public interest. It publishes tonight a picture of the Gordian knot, together with the legend connected with it, and asks its readers to prove the veracity of the Pittsburgh writer in the Gazette by untieing it forthwith; so some hundreds of not too busy New Yorkers were busy for several hours this evening, puzzling what brains they had entangling their fingers in string, as they sought to hold Alexander the Great up to ridicule.

An Embarrassment of Baby Carriages.

An East Side young mother named Klein, whose husband is out of work, felt sad because she had no baby carriage for her infant, little Herman Klein. The case seemed so desperate that there was a general rush of generous persons to supply her man with a vehicle. Now he has 11 baby carriages, new and old, and the young mother could go into business selling them, if she chose. Herman has as many different kinds of carriages at his disposal as any millionaire in New York, and his mother is almost frightened at the success of her public entreaty. New York is a hard town in general, but it takes strange fits of generosity now and then.

Jersey City Sunday Schools Parade.

Forty thousand children of the different Protestant churches in Jersey City took part today in the forty-ninth annual Sunday school parade. The mayor and other high officials reviewed the procession from a public stand at Hamilton park. Afterward there was cake, ice cream, fruit and candy for the marchers, while the teachers got together and told one another that New York could not have got up a more creditable parade, and not much larger, either.

Miss Glaser to Entertain Cadets.

Lulu Glaser will entertain the graduating class from West Point next Thursday at the Herald Square theater with her regular performance of "Dolly Varden," but with some special features introduced for the occasion. The little Pittsburgh girl is a great favorite with West Pointers. The cadets and their friends will have seats in the body of the theater and the officers of the academy will occupy boxes. In the latter part of the first act Miss Glaser will wear a West Point cadet uniform. The chorus will wear the caps and perform several evolutions that are taught at the academy. Manager Fred Whitney is preparing a souvenir card for the occasion. In the center will appear the face of Miss Glaser in the act of giving the military salute.

The Policeman's Tender Side.

It is nothing unusual for police sergeants to spend their money for prisoners that seem to need food or medicine. While the police in any city are a tenderhearted class, as a rule, it is only in a city as large as New York that the need of constant charity makes deep inroads on a policeman's pocket money. In some cases a policeman who has spent a quarter for a breakfast for a prisoner may get it back, but more often he does not. If the captured one has enough money to pay for his meal it is used for that purpose at his request. When he has no money (a fact easily established when the arresting officer searches him) there is not much likelihood that he will ever be able to reimburse the kindly giant in blue who has given him a meal. It may be thought that constant association with "beats" of all kinds has a tendency to harden the heart of a policeman, and doubtless it has. All the same, the fellow in "hard luck" who is hungry or sick when he is taken into custody knows that he can find a friend in need in the average New York police, whether he be an ordinary "sidewalk-pounder" or his majesty, the captain of the precinct himself.

Cigarmaker's Interest Fatal.

One of the scraps of city news which found its way into print today was of the death of a 60-year-old cigarmaker, caused by his interest in a cat fight. The cigarmaker was working in an upper room, when two cats met on a fence in the back yard and scrapped with the emotional vigor characteristic of their kind. The man leaned far out to cheer on the combatants, lost his balance, fell to the paved yard on his head and fractured his skull.

Impounded a Stray Automobile.

Among the peculiar flotsam and jetsam of Broadway picked up by the police today was a red automobile. It was standing in front of one of the theaters, empty, save for a woman's suede glove. The policeman watched it for an hour or two, and then, as it had no chauffeur or other attendant, he got in and steered it to the Tenderloin police station. It is part of the police drill practice running an auto, and this officer had never tried it before. He pulled at the levers, lost his helmet, almost ran into a store, zigzagged across Broadway and kept the idle actors, sunning themselves on the Rialto, in an ecstasy of enjoyment for several minutes. Then another policeman, who knew something about the machine, leaped aboard, and, as a newsboy handed the first policeman his battered helmet, sent the auto spinning along straight for the police station. The thing was claimed later in the day, but it cost the owner something for "pound charges."

No Use Arguing Against Fashion.

Doctors can talk as they please about dotted veils being bad for the eyes. Every other woman one meets in upper Broadway or Fifth avenue has one on her bonnet. It is true that many of them have the gauze decorations twisted up about their millinery, but others defiantly wear them over their faces, dots and all, and evidently know that they are becoming to most feminine faces. After all, as they argue, when they condescend to discuss the matter at all, it is not so bad to wear veils with dots in the mesh as it used to be to put blotches of black sticking plaster on the face itself, which the smart women of the beginning of the last century used to regard as a mark of high breeding.

Old Plays, but New to Gotham.

There were two theatrical openings in New York tonight. Neither of the plays produced was new, but there was novelty in both productions for this metropolis. At the Garrick Grace George appeared as Gilberte in a special production of "Frou Frou," which was seen and praised in Pittsburgh a week or two ago. Miss George repeated tonight the artistic work she showed Pittsburgh, and a large audience testified to its pleasure by a number of curtain calls. The other new offering was the musical travesty, "The Chaperons," at the New York. This piece has been seen and heard in Pittsburgh and many other big cities, but this is the first time it has managed to break into New York. It pleased a large audience tonight and may achieve a very respectable run this summer.

THE MAN UP A TREE

From a High Viewpoint.

MAY frosts never touched the June orange blossoms.

With his new grant of £50,000 added to the £30,000 he received at the close of the Soudan campaign, Viscount Kitchener should feel financially able to marry.

Chicago draft horses are sorry that their vacation is over.

The governor of Mississippi hopes that the bear hunt attached to his invitation is an allurement that President Roosevelt will be unable to resist.

William Jennings Bryan probably has serious doubts about the Democracy of the Hoosier Democrats.

Chicago is now ready for the next eruption.

Dr. Marcus A. Hanna prescribes arbitration for those anthracite coal troubles, but the operators don't adhere to that school of medicine.

Field Marshal Roberts is called "Bobs," but no one has yet ventured to speak of Gen. Horatio Herbert Kitchener as "Horry."

Those Virginia effigy hangers have not yet attended to the case of Gov. Longino, who has invited President Roosevelt to visit Mississippi.

Richmond Pearson Hobson is to run for office in Alabama, and, of course, he will conduct a baby osculation campaign.

"I beg your pardon," says Walter Dorman to the state authorities.

The United States Steel Corporation's check gave the Fourth of July fund a fine boost.

Boon for Chicagoans.

"Oh, we're booming right along," said the Chicago man, as he talked to a Pittsburgher in the smoking compartment of a Pullman sleeper. "I suppose you noticed that the city directory puts us well above the 2,000,000 mark in the matter of population."

"Yes," added the Pittsburgher, "your directory man is surely a wonder as an estimator."

The Chicagoan ignored this and continued to remark:

"Of course, you have seen something about the fast train that is to run between Chicago and New York?"

"Yes; you are glad of that, I suppose?"

"Surely."

"I thought you would be. It adds to your facilities for escaping from Chicago, you know."

Then the Chicagoan relapsed into discomfited silence.

Their Spring Hat Bills.

When Mr. Hammersmith went home with his new Panama hat on his head pride filled his bosom and there was real danger that his expanding cranium would burst his expensive headgear.

He entered the presence of his wife, who smiled sweetly upon her husband, for she had reminded him frequently that his hat was becoming shabby and had advised him to buy a new one.

"Isn't it a beauty?" Mr. Hammersmith asked.

"It is, indeed," replied Mrs. Hammersmith, taking the hat and examining its texture. "It is very fine and light. I suppose it was somewhat expensive?"

"Well, Panama hats come high, you know. You wouldn't like your hubby to get a cheap-looking lid, would you?"

"No; I want you to have one of the best. But you haven't told me what it cost."

"No, I haven't, and it isn't really necessary to name the figure, is it?"

"Not at all, only—"

"Only what?"

"Only I bought my spring hat today, and I hoped that as you had been generous to yourself, my hat bill would meet with no opposition."

Thereupon both bills passed unanimously.

MONEY TO SPARE.

Bryn Mawr Collected More Than Enough to Secure Rockefeller's Gift of $230,000.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—Miss M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr college, today announced that $256,000 had been contributed to the institution to meet the conditional offer of $230,000 made by John D. Rockefeller.

Mr. Rockefeller agreed to donate the amount named to Bryn Mawr college to be used for improvements providing the institution succeeded in raising $250,000.

NEWTON, MASS., June 5.—At the trustees' dinner following the graduation exercises of the Newton Theological institution today endowments and bequests aggregating nearly $500,000 for the year were announced. The gifts included $200,000 raised to receive an equal sum from John D. Rockefeller.

SOUGHT THE PRESIDENT.

Armed Woman Lunatic Arrested While Inquiring for White House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—(Special.)—Mary A. Medley, middle aged, of Philadelphia, richly gowned and wearing many diamonds, was arrested at the Baltimore & Ohio station tonight while acting queerly. She declared she had lost a suit against a big New York corporation and she had come to see President Roosevelt to get justice. She inquired the way to the White House and threatened to shoot the officer who arrested her. She carried a loaded pistol in her handbag. She is thought to be insane.

The police have communicated with the relatives of the woman in Philadelphia, who will come after her in the morning.

PENNSY'S TUNNEL TOLL.

Company Must Pay New York City About $1,400,000 for 25 Years.

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Special.)—Before the meeting of the rapid transit commission today the committee on contracts came to an agreement with the Pennsylvania railroad's New York, New Jersey & Long Island Tunnel Company as to the rental that company is to pay the city of New York for the privilege of crossing Manhattan island. The proposed grant is to be for 25 years.

Altogether 69,000 lineal feet of track is to be laid. It was agreed that the railroad must pay the city 50 cents a foot each year for the first 10 years and $1 a foot each year for 15 years, besides an annual rental of $100 for passing under the New York half of the North river. The total rental for the entire 25 years will be nearly $1,400,000.

Crucible Plant for Latrobe.

It is announced that the Burns Uniform Steel & Metal Company has purchased a site of 40 acres at Latrobe, and is ready to let contracts for a crucible plant there. The entire plant of the company is to consist of four open hearth furnaces, a rolling mill and other buildings. The crucible plant will contain four 48-pot ranges.

PERSONALS

"No industrial strike will injure the banks of the United States half so much as the strike of the coal miners now pending," said Col. W. L. Thompson, a prominent banker of Chicago, who was last night going to his home. "Every day it appears the strike, now confined to the anthracite regions, is growing more serious. Now the bituminous miners threaten to come out in several states, and if they do this coal strike will probably be the greatest in the history of this country. The continued prosperity the people are enjoying is the cause for this strike. The miners' wages in almost every section are fair. They are getting more money now than they ever did. This is not a strike of the miners for more money, but a strike of the leaders, who seem to realize that now their demands are more likely to be granted by the operators than during hard times."

"Politics is in a very feverish state in Oregon," said E. H. Crane, a prominent oil merchant of Portland, Ore., at the Union station last night. "The trouble was all caused by the bitter opposition of Senator Simon to President Roosevelt's Philippine policy. That caused a split in the Republican ranks in our state. George E. Chamberlain, the Democratic candidate for the gubernatorial office, who has been declared elected, will possibly get the office, but if there was a contest, it is doubtful if he could show enough votes to win. There are several counties yet to hear from. In Portland the Republicans have had the pleasure of honoring one of the oldest politicians in the state with the mayoralty. He is Attorney George H. Williams, who was attorney general for one term under Gen. U. S. Grant's administration. Mayor Williams is over 80 years of age, but is hale and hearty and will make one of the best executive heads the city of Portland ever had."

J. L. Fuqton, a novelty manufacturer of New York, was a passenger to Buffalo last night. In discussing the coal strike in Pennsylvania he said: "Why is Pennsylvania unable to handle her own troubles? This state has one of the crack militias of the United States and it should be able to care for any such strike as the present one in the anthracite regions. Why does the New York chamber of commerce have to interfere and send a committee to President Roosevelt to ask him to take a hand and settle the trouble? It does not seem fair, to my mind, that any other state should come in. It is Pennsylvania's battle, and let her fight it out at any cost."

Last night the first annual ladies' night of the Pittsburgh Baptist Social union was celebrated with a banquet at the Hotel Henry. Eighty members of the union were in attendance. Music was furnished by the male quartet of the First German church of the South Side. The Rev. Dr. Edwin M. Poteat made the principal address of the evening, his subject being "Baptists In Their Relation to the Community." The Rev. Dr. William A. Stanton and the Rev. John Jay Gorham also spoke.

Capt. B. B. Dovener of Wheeling, W. Va., a member of congress from West Virginia, was registered at the Monongahela House last night.

E. E. Bonneville, manager of the Hotel Henry, left last night for several days' business trip to New York.

Thomas S. Spear, formerly traveling passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, but now city ticket agent of the Texas & Pacific railroad at Dallas, Tex., left for his home last night, after an extended visit to Pittsburgh relatives.

Logan G. McPherson, formerly of Pittsburgh, but now a resident of Baltimore, an officer of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, delivered an address before the Economic seminary of Johns Hopkins university February 25 on "The Coal Industry Near Pittsburgh." A summary of the address appears in the university circular for June.

Dr. W. C. Cook, who has just returned from a three days' trip through Ohio in his automobile, covering 285 miles, was so pleased with country touring that he contemplates going to Cleveland this month to attend the convention of the American Institute of Hom opathy and Ophtalmological society. He will be accompanied by his wife and daughter.

He was assigned to the ordnance department at the Allegheny arsenal, and at the close of the war was discharged with the grade of serge

NERVY MEN GO TO THE CLOUDS TO FLOAT A FLAG

Tall Pole on the High Frick Building Fitted With Ropes.

RISKED MUCH FOR LITTLE

Patrick Joyce Had No Business Climbing, but to Make Good His Boast He Staked His Life and 80 Cents Against $1.50 and Went Up.

He staked his life and 80 cents against a paltry $1 50, and to win climbed to a point 379 feet above the pavement. Such was the nerve-straining, muscle-tiring feat accomplished by Patrick Joyce of Port Perry, when he climbed the flagpole on top of the Frick building. He did it after two men had failed and one man had succeeded in placing the flag halliard in the pulley at the top of the flagstaff.

After the two men had been to the top of the pole Joyce remarked that he could do the same thing. He was laughed at by a number of workmen and then the wager was promptly made. Joyce was without funds, but some of his friends raised the money for him, and it was placed in the hands of a stake holder, and Joyce climbed to the top of the pole, making three stops.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon "Red" Daly, or Joseph Burke, as he is known to many, who had the contract to get a line through the flagstaff pulley so that a monster banner of freedom may be thrown to the breezes from the highest point in Pittsburgh on Independence day, made another attempt to accomplish the task. Wednesday evening he was only able to reach the center of the staff and had to abandon the feat, the spurs he wore having hurt him so that he could not proceed. The contract price for the work was $25.

Burke Failed the Second Time.

Yesterday Burke was rigged up in all kinds of safety trappings. He had a heavy leather strap around his body and a coil of line over his shoulder. There was a 20-foot ladder placed against the pole to aid the climber. Burke was applauded by his friends who had gathered on the roof of the great skyscraper as he began his ascent. The applause was premature, for his appliances did not work well, and he was only able to get about 10 feet above the top of the ladder when he had to retreat.

About this time James McClain of No. 803 Forbes street, appeared on the roof and offered to aid his friend Burke for part of the contract price. McClain threw off his coat and placing the halliard about his shoulders started up the pole hand over hand. He reached the top in 10 minutes. This was a most daring feat.

McClain Reached the Top.

As the sheave in the pulley was stiff, McClain was unable to run the rope through it. He worked at the dizzy height for 10 minutes. He then fastened the rope at the top of the flagstaff and slid down to the roof. In the meantime another climber, N. J. McElwee, who is a general rigger and steeple painter, reached the roof. He had his trappings and rigging with him and in very short order was getting to the top of the flagstaff in a most business-like manner.

After working with the pulley for 25 minutes he succeeded in getting the halliard through. While he was at work Patrick Joyce, who had been watching all the proceedings, made some remarks about the clumsiness of some climbers, and incidentally boasted somewhat of his prowess as a climber. The friends of the other climbers intimated that their heroes could dance a jig on any spot to which Joyce could climb.

Joyce Wanted to Bet.

This angered Joyce and he said he would bet he could go to the top easily in three stops. His offer was promptly accepted. Joyce was then confronted with another proposition. He had no money. He asked some of his friends for funds and they succeeded in getting 80 cents together.

Burke and McClain were more fortunate and they gathered $1 50 together. Joyce said he could only raise 80 cents and would climb the pole for that amount. The other two steeple climbers got generous and said they would put up their money to the 80 cents raised by Joyce.

Joyce stripped his coat and pulled off his shoes. He mounted the ladder and was soon climbing the pole. He went up for 40 feet without wavering. Then he stopped and looked to the ground. "Go ahead, we have money on you," shouted a voice from the crowd on the roof. Joyce was encouraged by this and started to ascend again.

He went to the third joint of the pole and stopped again. After resting a few minutes he climbed to the top of the pole. Striking the ball with his hand, he started to come down. He slid rapidly to the third joint, and after resting a minute or so he came down to the next joint.

It Was a Hard Strain.

Then he showed signs of becoming fatigued. He got to the top of the ladder and several men jumped to his assistance. When he reached the roof he showed signs of the terrible strain he was under. Another cheer was given him and several workmen grabbed his hand.

"Well, that was easy money," he said to a Gazette reporter. Joyce returned the 80 cents to his friend and then they went away to spend the $1 50.

McClain said he had a "cramp" when he was trying to put the halliard through the sheeve on the flagpole. He remained at the top of the pole for over 15 minutes. Burke received the money for the work and divided it with McClain and McElwee. Each received $8 33. A crowd of several hundred people gathered in the streets below and watched the daring performances in the clouds.

FRIENDS' ABSENCE CAUSED DEFEAT

BLOCK HOUSE PLAN MET REVERSE IN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Committee on Municipal Affairs Favored Preservation of Historic Monument, but Friends of Warehouse Syndicate Were Too Strong.

The absence of the friends of the "Old Block House" from the chamber of commerce meeting yesterday afternoon caused them to lose the results of weeks of work in the committees of the chamber.

After a hot discussion the supplementary report of the committee on municipal affairs, which recommended that the block house be preserved in its present location and that a suitable entrance to it be opened and maintained, was voted down, while the regular report, which took a stand against the establishment of a park at the Point, was adopted.

The supplementary report contained a recommendation that a committee consisting of John Eaton, W. M. Kennedy and H. K. Porter be appointed to confer with the Daughters of the American Revolution and the members of the warehouse syndicate with a view to an amicable settlement of the differences over the block house.

This report had been unanimously adopted by the board of directors, and its defeat yesterday was due to the failure of the friends of the historic old structure to attend the meeting.

Another cause for its defeat lay in the fact that it was openly stated on the floor of the chamber that the Daughters of the Revolution would not confer with any such committee from the chamber. The supplementary report was rejected by a vote of 30 to 9.

The discussion was warm. John Bradley caused a mild sensation by declaring that the report of the committee, which opposed the scheme for the Point park, was inspired by the fact that the members were almost all real estate men or interested in realty values, with the result that their patriotic sentiment had been overbalanced by business ideas. The report was signed by D. P. Black, Charles Donnelly, Oliver McClintock, R. B. Mellon, L. S. Smith and J. L. Lewis.

Mr. Bradley's speech caused a chorus of protest from the friends of the warehouse syndicate, who were in a majority at the meeting. Mr. Black said that he was the only real estate man on the committee and that he had no interest whatever in the warehouse syndicate. Harry Davis and John Bradley bore the brunt of the battle for the block house adherents.

After consultation with F. F. Nicola, the chief promoter of the warehouse project, W. S. Temple offered a resolution in favor of the removal of the block house to Schenley park and for the appointment of a committee of five to confer with the Daughters of the Revolution with that end in view. When President Logan informed Mr. Temple that his resolution would have to go to the municipal affairs committee and thence through the board of directors he withdrew the paper.

After adopting previously published reports on sanitation and ballot reform, and adopting a report favoring the change of moving day from April 1 to May 1, the chamber adjourned until September.

VAIN SEARCH FOR SLASHER'S ABODE

Detectives Have as Yet Been Unable to Learn Anything More About the Suspect.

The detectives and police have been unable to locate the habitation of John Durby, believed to be "Jack the Slasher." Yesterday a vigorous but vain search was made in the Polish settlements for the vandal's abode. Durby spent the day in the Allegheny county jail. Several persons were taken there to identify him, but he was unknown to them.

Detectives Waggoner and Kelly went to Thirty-eighth and Butler streets among the Polish people, with some Polish police officers. They had the officers talk to persons whom they suspected knew Durby. They were unable to learn anything of him.

Durby is still reticent. He refuses to discuss his situation with any of the other prisoners in the jail. The detectives are of the opinion that he is an anarchist. He has the disposition of the "reds." He still assumes his morose and sullen manner. As one of the keepers said at the jail last night, "he seems to be cross with the world."

It is the opinion of Police Superintendent McAleese that the detectives and police will be able to locate Durby's rooms in a few days. The keepers in the Allegheny county jail say they believe Durby is sane, but mean and cunning. Superintendent McAleese said last night he had sufficient evidence to indict the man.

IN FAMOUS TRIAL.

One of the Last Surviving Witnesses in Lincoln Assassination Case Now Dying.

ANDERSON, IND., June 5.—Prof. Lewis J. Weichman is dying at the home of his sister, Mrs. Charles O'Crawley, in this city. He is 60 years old and for many years has been conducting a business college.

With the exception of John Surratt, now in Baltimore, Prof. Weichman is the last witness in the trial of the accomplices of John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln. Although his evidence was true in detail, Prof. Weichman has always brooded over the matter and frequently said that his testimony was the cause of the conviction and sentence to the gallows of Mrs. Surratt.

Westinghouse Motion Denied.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Judge Lacomb of the circuit court today denied a motion for an injunction in the case of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company against the Stanley Electric Company of Pittsfield, and Marshall D. Barr. The suit was brought for an alleged infringement of the Tesla rotary field patents. The judge denied the motion on the ground of no jurisdiction. Former Speaker Thomas B. Reed recently argued the case for the defense.

Society

FRIDAY is pretty generally regarded as woman's day at the country and golf clubs. The weekly woman's golf tournament, which was announced for today at the Allegheny Country club, has been postponed because of the death on Wednesday evening of Mrs. Rebecca T. McCullough, Mrs. Harry Darlington's mother. Mr. Darlington is president of the Allegheny Country club. Mrs. Darlington was the only child, and there are few other relatives, so that Mrs. McCullough's death will cause the withdrawal of but few from active society. There is a small circle of society leaders in both Pittsburgh and Allegheny who will refrain from entertaining out of sympathy for Mrs. Darlington, with whom they have been intimately associated in social and philanthropic circles. Miss Rebecca McCullough Darlington, the only granddaughter, was named for her grandmother.

The Darlingtons had arranged, if Mrs. McCullough could be moved, to go to their country home, Mamaroneck, Long Island, next week. A number of the horses and traps were sent east a few days ago.

Out of courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Darlington and their family there will be no events at the Allegheny Country club for several days.

Atchison-Brown.

The event of the New Kensington and Parnassus season was the marriage at 6 o'clock last evening, in the First United Presbyterian church of Parnassus of Miss Lula Blanche Atchison, eldest daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. James M. Atchison, and Dr. Prentiss Agnew Brown of New Kensington.

The bride was exquisitely gowned in white crepe de chine over taffeta, made very plainly with full train. The only trimming was old point lace. A long veil of silk tulle was worn, caught with an aigrette. A handsome shower bouquet of bride's roses was carried. The bride was attended by Mrs. John McCartney Kennedy and Mrs. William Farrar, two recent brides, as matrons of honor. Each was gowned in her wedding dress. Last evening was the second anniversary of the marriage of Mrs. Farrar, Miss Atchison having been her bridesmaid. The matrons of honor carried pink sweet peas tied with chiffon. Miss Mary Katherine Atchison, younger sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was gowned in pink mousseline de soie over white taffeta, and carried a shower bouquet of American Beauty roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Dr. Henry E. Finney of New Kensington. The ushers were Capt. William Finney of Greensburg, who was in the Philippines with the Tenth regiment; Dr. William Laugfett of Allegheny, Dr. Christy Sandels of Greensburg, Dr. Frank High of the East End.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Thomas C. Atchison of Baltimore, uncle of the bride, assisted by the bride's father, the Rev. James M. Atchison, and the Rev. Dr. J. C. Gibson of Negley avenue, Pittsburgh, an uncle of the bridegroom. The bride was given away by her father.

Immediately after the wedding ceremony a reception and dinner were given at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a recent graduate of the Ladies' seminary at Washington, Pa. Dr. Brown is a rising young practitioner in New Kensington, and is also prominent in business circles. He graduated in the class of 1896 from the medical department of the Western university. At home cards have been issued for dates after July 1.

Stuart-Layng.

A wedding of interest to Bellevue people was that of Miss Ethel Stuart and John K. Layng of Bellevue, which took place last evening at the residence of the bride's father, Charles M. Stuart, in Latrobe. Mr. Layng is a son of George H. Lyang, formerly of Allegheny but for the last six months a resident of Bellevue. The bride is well-known here having made numerous visits with relatives and friends in Allegheny and Bellevue. The bridal party last evening consisted of the maid of honor, Miss Mary Stuart, a sister of the bride; Miss Helen Layng, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Marie Claney, Miss Elizabeth McClure and Miss Catherine Montgomery, all of Latrobe, the bridesmaids. Harry Stuart, a brother of the bride, as best man, and two ushers, William Wells and Ross O'Brien of Pittsburgh. The bride wore white mousseline de soie over white silk and carried white roses; her sister wore white pointe d'esprit over white, while the bridesmaids wore white swiss over pink taffeta. The Rev. Charles Layng of Allegheny, an uncle of the bride, performed the ceremony, which took place at 6:30. It was followed by a large reception afterward for the friends and relatives of the two families.

A Japanese Tea for Charity.

A Japanese tea was given yesterday afternoon at "Sunnybank," the home of Mrs. Charles Somers, on the Brighton road, Ben Avon, for the benefit of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Rescue Home. The event was the last of a series of musicales and luncheons given during the winter for the benefit of the home and was the first to occur in one of the suburbs. Mrs. Somers, assisted by Mrs. E. S. McClain, president of the society; Mrs. Martin Prenter, Mrs. J. W. Sproull, Mrs. W. S. Power, Mrs. W. H. Drum, Mrs. S. R. Sloan, Mrs. Daniel Ashworth, Miss Agnes Sterling, Mrs. Myra Higdon, Mrs. Henry Witmer, Mrs. James G. Hunter, Mrs. John D. McLean and Mrs. James M. Fleming, received the guests. Mrs. Anna Sawhill had charge of the tea room and was assisted by the following aides, who wore Japanese costumes: Mrs. Alford S. Cowperthwaite, Miss Lucile Sawhill, Miss Wilma McLean, Miss H. Kenny Fleming and Miss Helen Ramage. Mrs. Somers' home was prettily decorated with Japanese fans and hangings, and refreshments were served in the large dining room and hall.

Ashtown-Langley.

An interesting home wedding in Verona was the marriage last evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the bridegroom's parents, of Miss Ada F. Ashtown of London, Eng., and James Langley of the Allegheny Valley railroad. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James A. Younkins of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Oakmont. The guests numbered about 150 and the ceremony was followed by a wedding supper. Miss Ashtown recently came to the United States, and at the time of her marriage was a guest in the home of the bridegroom's family. She was handsomely gowned in white silk, trimmed in old point lace. There were no attendants. After an extensive eastern trip they will be at home to their friends in Verona, where their home is already furnished. Mr. Langley recently returned from several months of travel through England, France and the Mediterranean countries.

Mrs. Jenkinson's Lawn Party.

Mrs. Alexander M. Jenkinson gave a tea yesterday afternoon at the Pittsburgh Country club, which was unlike any other afternoon tea of the season. All formality was dispensed with and Mrs. Jenkinson received her guests under the old trees which shade the lawn. She was unassisted, though standing near her were her mother-in-law, Mrs. Richard Jenkinson, and her sister, Mrs. Frank M. Laughlin. The women were exquisitely gowned in summer dresses. There was music under the trees, and refreshments were served in the large dining room, which was decorated with American beauty roses. Animated groups of women, handsome horses and smart traps gave picturesqueness to the 4 o'clock tea, which was transformed into a brilliant garden party.

Home and Hospital Receptions.

The boards of managers of the United Presbyterian Orphans' Home and Memorial hospital held their annual receptions yesterday afternoon and evening at the two institutions at West Jefferson and Monterey streets, Allegheny. The hours were from 2 until 10 o'clock and the two buildings were filled with people interested in the work. Supper was served from 5 o'clock until 8, the children in the orphans' home acting as aids to the managers, who received in the parlors. The two institutions were thrown open to the visitors, who went through the home and visited the different wards in the hospital, leaving flowers and generous donations of money and supplies for the maintenance of the institutions.

An Armenian Lawn Fete.

The pupils of the Alinda school will give a lawn fete on Friday, June 27, at the residence of Mrs. George W. Schmidt, No. 5806 Center avenue, for the benefit of the Armenian Industrial school in Marash, Turkey. The committee in charge hopes to secure enough money to buy a few hand looms and to replace those which recently burned. Any contributions of cake, candy, flowers or articles to sell will be gladly received by the young girls and may be left at Mrs. Schmidt's on the day of the lawn fete.

Mering—McClung.

A very pretty family wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hartley, in Fifth avenue, Oakland. The bride was Miss Elizabeth Hartley Mering, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, and the bridegroom was Charles Agnew McClung, son of the late Murray McClung. The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. C. F. Thurgood, pastor of the First Christian church. The bride was attended by two maids of honor, Miss Florence Anderson and Miss Helen Kerr. The groomsmen were T. C. Howard and Murray McClung, a brother of the bridegroom. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white chiffon over white silk and trimmed with fine lace. Her veil was of tulle and she carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. The maids of honor wore dainty gowns of white mousseline trimmed with valenciennes lace, and having sashes of pink chiffon. They carried bouquets of pink flowers. The decorations of the house were in pink and white, pink and white roses and sweet peas against the rich green of palms and trailing vines. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mering and is a musician. Mr. McClung is a civil engineer with the Carnegie Steel Company, holds a responsible position, and is well-known among the younger men of his profession in Pittsburgh. He is a nephew of Judge S. A. McClung of the Allegheny county court. The wedding last evening was witnessed by nearly 100 relatives and intimate friends of both the bride and bridegroom. After the supper the young couple went away on their wedding trip. They will make their home in Pittsburgh.

Annual Dancing Carnival.

The annual carnival held by the pupils in Braun's dancing academies was conducted last evening at the Alvin theater. The theater was filled with friends of the children and the boxes held parties. The children performed their part of the program well, appearing in fancy and costume dances, some performing specialties which were remarkable for skill and grace. The program was a long one, everyone having an opportunity to appear, from the wee folks in the quaint minuets and fancy drills to the older children who danced alone, occupying the center of the stage. To the large audience that greeted with enthusiasm the performances of the children were a number of the officers and prominent members of the National Dancing Masters' association, which is to meet in a few days in Milwaukee. They are in Pittsburgh as the special guests of Austin McFadden, who has charge of the instruction in Braun's academies this year. They were delighted with the highly creditable appearance of the young people. Especial mention should be made of the work of George and Frances Charles, twin brother and sister, who appeared in a Dutch specialty dance, which was unique and graceful and presented with unusual skill. The two were born in Pittsburgh 13 years ago. Such progress have they made during their period of dancing lessons that they are now preparing for the professional stage. The dancing carnival will be continued again this evening and on Saturday afternoon.

Hammond-Sprong.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., June 5.—(Special.)—A fashionable social event occurred at Slingerlinds yesterday in the marriage of Dr. Henry Powers Hammond of Franklin, Pa., to Miss Floyd Sprong, daughter of J. White Sprong, a wealthy railroad magnate connected with the Delaware & Hudson railroad. Dr. Hammond is a nephew of Superintendent Hammond of the Delaware & Hudson and is a graduate of Leland Stanford university of California and of the Albany Medical college. He is a former resident of Pittsburgh and is now one of the leading physicians of Franklin. The bride is a woman of high intellectual and social attainments.

Her Eightieth Birthday.

About 100 descendants of Mrs. Lucinda Maxwell of Emblem, five miles from McKeesport, held a reunion yesterday in commemoration of Mrs. Maxwell's 80th birthday. Dinner and supper were served in the orchard. Mrs. Maxwell is the widow of James Maxwell, who was killed during the civil war. She is the mother of nine children and has 48 grandchildren and 45 great-grandchildren living. The children are Mrs. Elizabeth Carter of Pittsburgh, Mrs. William Harris of Wilkinsburg, Reuben Maxwell of Stoneboro, Mrs. Catherine Wilde, Mrs. Robert Robinson, Mrs. Anna Stielman, Mrs. William Stielman, Alfred and Hamlin Maxwell of McKeesport.

Party at Sunny Ledge.

A pretty little garden party was given last evening at Sunny Ledge, the home of Dr. and Mrs. James H. McClelland. The hostesses were the two young daughters of the family, Miss Sarah and Miss Rachel McClelland, who entertained a number of their school friends. Lanterns illuminated the lawns and the affair was a very jolly and informal one.

Informal Entertainments.

Miss Rebecca Shields Jones gave a small luncheon yesterday afternoon at the Pittsburgh Golf club in honor of a recent bride, Mrs. Frederick Atwood McVay of Sewickley. Covers were laid for 10 and the guests included only relatives of the hostess, and the guest of honor.

A game of ping-pong was played yesterday morning by Miss Roma Huselton and a few friends at Duquesne garden. The game was followed by an informal luncheon.

Joint Committee Meeting.

The joint committee of women's clubs held its regular meeting yesterday morning at the Twentieth Century club house. Reports were heard from all the different sub-committees. The school garden committee will have gardens at the Fortieth Street school playground and at the playground at Kingsley house. Mr. Hurtle of the Hatfield school has been engaged to direct the games of the older children in the playgrounds.

Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, treasurer of the committee, reported contributions amounting to $1,208. As the total expense will amount to about $7,000 this summer, and the appropriation from the central school board of education is $2,500 with an additional fund of about $600 from the small parks appropriation, double the amount already contributed will be necessary to carry on the work planned for this season. The committee will gladly receive contributions, large and small, for that purpose.

Social Notes.

The senior class of nurses of the West Penn hospital was banqueted last night by the junior class. The dining hall of the hospital was elaborately decorated with flowers, palms and bunting, and a suffused pink glow from the shaded lights gave the banquet room a handsome appearance. Covers were laid for 40 people, and an elegant repast was served. The senior class consists of 19, and they will be graduated on June 12. The exercises, which will take place in the hospital, will be followed with a ball.

HOT CHARLOTTES AND FLANS.

Preparations of Fruit Which Resemble Raised Pies.

Hot charlottes and flans are desserts preparations not very common in the American cuisine, and yet they are dishes of quite ancient origin.

Hot charlottes are defined as preparations of fruit contained in an edible case resembling a raised pie in form, but being made of previously baked paste usually of bread or biscuit.

While they will admit of great complication of materials and elaboration in structure and design, they may also be very simple and inexpensive.

Philadelphia, June 5.—Pittsburgh took the last game of the series from Philadelphia by a score of 9 to 4, after a remarkable contest. It was remarkable for fine pitching by Chesbro for seven innings, not a hit being made off the Pittsburgh pitcher until the eighth, and only two men reached first. In the eighth the Phillies made a remarkable rally and tied the score, but the Pittsburghs were not to be denied and made a great finish, scoring five runs in the last inning. The work of the umpires again caused considerable wrangling.

Umpire Power, while officiating behind the bat in the fifth inning, was caught on the temple by a foul tip from Bransfield's bat and keeled over, lying unconscious on the ground for about three minutes. When he recovered Brown took his place behind the bat and Power gave the decisions on the bases.

Clarke Was a Real Leader.

Clarke led the batting with four timely singles. Bransfield also got two timely two-baggers and also fielded his position in grand style, making two grand running catches of foul flies. Hulswitt at short carried off the fielding honors for the home team.

Pittsburgh had men on third and second in the first inning, but failed to score. Hulswitt retired Davis at first and Clarke's single was fumbled by Browne and Fred reached second. Beaumont flied to Browne, but a passed ball put Clarke on third. Wagner walked and stole second, but Bransfield was out, Childs to Douglas.

The visitors got two runs very cheaply in the second. Ritchey walked and Leach bunted, Douglass making a three-base wild throw to first, which allowed Ritchey to score. O'Connor hit to Childs and the latter did not know what to do with the ball. He could easily have caught Leach at the plate, but did not make the attempt, running to first instead to put out O'Connor. Chesbro fanned. Davis singled, but Clarke forced Lefty at second, Childs to Hulswitt.

Although the visitors had men on bases in the third and fourth, they did not score again until the fifth. After Beaumont had fouled to Hallman Wagner hit for three bases and Bransfield for two, earning a run. Ritchey grounded to Hulswitt and Leach flied to Childs.

Where the Game Was Won.

In the sixth, with two out, Davis drew a pass and Clarke singled. Fred tried to take second on Barry's throw to third but was caught. Beaumont beat out a bunt in the seventh. Wagner's liner was caught by Barry and he had Beaumont at first, but Power would not allow the out. Bransfield forced Beaumont at second and then made a steal, but Ritchey flied to Douglas, ending the inning. With two out in the eighth, Chesbro walked and took third on a wild pitch. Davis also was presented with his base and Clarke made his third single of the game, bringing in Chesbro. Beaumont flied to Fraser.

The Phillies got their first hit off Chesbro in the eighth. It was a hard grounder, close to the bag, which Wagner stopped but could not recover in time to catch Hulswitt at first. Hallman flied to Clarke and Childs was out at first on a grounder to Wagner. On this out Hulswitt went from first to third, Leach tried hard to block the little shortstop but Hulswitt threw his spikes into the Pittsburg third baseman and crawled to the bag. Time was called three minutes until Leach was patched up and then Fraser singled to center, tallying the Phillies' first run. Thomas walked and Chesbro made a wild throw on Browne's little blocked ball. Fraser and Thomas scored and Browne took third. Douglas hit for two bases, sending in Browne with the tieing run. Barry was third out on a grounder to Bransfield.

Pirates Kept on Scoring.

The rally was too much for the Phillies, however, and Pittsburgh again scored a comfortable lead in the ninth. Wagner walked and scored on Bransfield's two-bagger. Fraser made a three-base wild throw on Ritchey's bunt and Bransfield counted. Ritchey came home on a wild pitch. Leach singled and took second on O'Connor's out. Doolin missed the third strike on Chesbro, but had Leach caught off second; Childs, however, muffed Doolin's throw and Leach got back to the bag safely. Davis beat out an infield hit and Clarke again landed the ball safely in center, sending in Leach and Chesbro. Clarke was caught trying to steal and Beaumont struck out. Chesbro retired the Phillies in order in their half of the ninth. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

Two out of three from the Quakers was all right for the start on the eastern trip.

Chic Fraser must have been afraid of Honus Wagner yesterday, as he walked the Carnegie boy three times. Honus only got one hit, but he made it count, as it was a three-bagger.

It was a shame the way Fred Clarke treated Brother-in-Law Chic Fraser, and there is now likely to be a family feud on. Out of six times at bat Fred got four nice, juicy singles.

The Pirates went over to New York today and will argufy with the Giants for the next three days. Fogel's men have taken a long-looked-for brace and are putting up a better article of ball than for some weeks. They took two out of three from Chicago.

The Phillies did not get a hit off Happy Jack Chesbro until the eighth inning, when they made four in succession, and these, with a wild throw by Happy Jack, netted four runs and tied the score. The champions were nothing daunted, however, as they went at Brother-in-Law Fraser's delivery in the ninth inning and pounded in five runs. That was a good way to finish up the game.

That was a funny home run which Cy Young made at Cleveland yesterday, and it was the first one for Boston. The right field fence at Cleveland is but a short distance back of first base, and as a rule a hit to that fence only counts for a single. The ball that Cy hit found an opening under the scoreboard which adorns the fence and could not be dug out until the big pitcher had made the circuit of the bases.

There is a hot time promised the champions both in New York and Brooklyn. Both of these teams have taken a decided brace in their work lately, and are playing pennant ball. Hanlon's team is particularly strong just now. And his pitchers are doing as good work as any twirlers in the league. If the Pirates get three out of the next six games they will be getting out pretty lucky, and it will take good work for a record of the kind.

The Quaker city spooling writers are just a bit late with their news. The fact that President Dreyfuss offered to back the Pirates against Comiskey's Chicago team for $25,000 was published in this paper over four months ago. At that time Comiskey had just swiped George Davis from New York and Tom Daly from Brooklyn, and thought these men would make his team a world beater. The fact that this Chicago team was playing in Philadelphia this week is what made the Pirates' owner repeat his offer.

GIANTS WON ANOTHER.

ONLY TWELVE PLAYERS.

None but Stars Wanted in Monte Carlo Chess Tourney.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Advices have been received from Paris to the effect that M. de Riviere, the manager of the Monte Carlo international chess tournament, has decided to admit only 12 players in the third international chess masters' tourney to be played at Monte Carlo. He has also decided to abolish the way of counting drawn games, suggested by the world's champion, Emmanuel Lasker, giving quarter point to each player, but to adopt the usual style of counting half point to each player for a drawn game.

FLEMING SHOT WELL.

Some Fine Scores Were Made at the Irwin Shoot.

IRWIN, PA., June 5.—(Special.)—The best records ever made in a shoot in this part of the state were made in the final day's events of the Irwin Gun club's tournament today. Deniger of Ruffsdale led with only three misses out of 150. He made his first 70 without a miss. Fleming of Pittsburgh was second with 6 out of 150; Poole and Frost of Ruffsdale tied on 7 misses; Tiegs of Southfork and Ramsey with 10 each; Rhoda of Blairsville shot at 100 targets and only missed 3.

LIPTON WILL CHALLENGE.

Again Announced That He Will Come for Cup Again.

LONDON, June 5.—The Exchange Telegraph Company today gave out a yachting announcement, previously made by the Associated Press, which says that Sir Thomas Lipton has definitely decided to challenge for the America's cup in 1903 with a yacht to be built by the Dennys. The Exchange Telegraph Company adds that the yacht is designed by Fife, but that as a matter of fact, Watson and Fife collaborated in the design.

Third Straight Victory.

On the grounds of the Holy Ghost college last evening the National Tube Company team won its third consecutive game by defeating the Plate Glass team, the score being 19 to 5. The first inning proved disastrous for the Plate Glass team, but the remainder of the game was well played. The National Tube boys expect their new suits by the 10th, and a good schedule of games has been arranged. Score:

OTTO MAYA
The Erie Rider Who Was Badly Injured by a Runaway Motor Yesterday.

ANOTHER RIDER FOR MAYA'S PLACE

HOWARD FREEMAN WILL MEET BENNIE MONROE HERE.

Will Arrive from Baltimore, Where He Has Been Putting Up Some Very Speedy Racing—Race for Single Motors Also Arranged.

The accident which Otto Maya met with yesterday afternoon while trying to ride a single motor at the Colesseum track in Allegheny will, of course, change the program for the meet at that track tomorrow night. Maya was to have met Bennie Munroe in a 25-mile motor-paced race. As soon as the management of the Colesseum learned of the accident they at once made arrangements to find another match for Munroe so that the patrons of the Colesseum would not be disappointed tomorrow night. They were successful in securing Howard Freeman who is now riding in Baltimore. Late last night he answered a telegram from this city saying that he would be here for the race on Saturday night. Freeman, the other day at the Baltimore track, broke the 10-mile record for motor-paced races. He went the distance in 14:47. He has been riding steadily since the first of the season, and will not need much training for the race tomorrow night. He will reach Pittsburgh either tonight or early on Saturday morning.

The management has arranged for an additional attraction for the meet tomorrow night which is sure to prove attractive. This is a race for single motors. Already three entries have been received. These are Callahan of Boston, Bennett and Shultz. Shultz will ride the famous pacing machine, the "White Ghost," which holds the record for single motors on the track. It was recently ridden by Jimmy Hunter, who made the mile in 1:20. This race is certain to be exciting and very fast.

Munroe put in a full day on the track yesterday. In the afternoon he rode 25 miles behind a single pacing machine, covering the miles in from 1:36 to 1:31. He is in the best of condition, and the race between him and Freeman will be close. Munroe has been riding on the Atlantic City track, winning one of the races and losing the other on account of a break down of his motor. Munroe holds the record for five miles on the track. His record for the distance is 7:14. He is feeling very confident over the result of the race tomorrow night.

Close Game at Slippery Rock.

SLIPPERY ROCK, PA., June 5.—(Special.)—Slippery Rock Normal lost to Waynesburg college here today in one of the fastest games ever played on the home grounds. The pitching for both teams was gilt-edged, although the fielding was rather bad. Waynesburg scored the only three runs, on what are considered here as questionable decisions by the umpire. The score by innings:

									R.	H.	E.
Waynesburg	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	1—	3	4

Batteries—Davis and Bower; Burke, Phillips and Peiper.

The Grand Circuit Date.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The chairman of the National Cycling board of control announced today that the grand circuit, on which will be decided the professional short distance championship, will start immediately after July 4, and conclude in September.

High School Team Notes.

Pittsburgh High School team went to McKeesport Wednesday, where they were to have played the High School team. The McKeesport team did not show up. The Pittsburgh boys are sore over such treatment. They will refuse to play McKeesport in the future. The same thing occurred last year.

The High School team has taken a brace since losing to Shadyside, having won three straight games. They challenged Shadyside to another game, but it was refused by the S. S. A. management.

Saturday afternoon High School will play Company C of the Boys' Brigade at Friendship park. The game will be called at 2:15 sharp.

Saturday's game will be High School's 21st for the season. They vow to win it.

Next week is a busy one for High School. Monday they play Braddock High School. Tuesday, Pittsburgh College; Wednesday, California Normal school; Thursday, East Liberty academy and Saturday, California Normal at California, Pa.

Fred Youngson is High School's premier batter. He has hit the ball for keeps all season. He will go to Wesleyan University next fall and ought to make his name famous in the east.

COUNTRY CLUB WON FROM EDGEWORTH

Allegheny Players Had an Easy Time Defeating Sewickley's Representatives on Home Links.

The Allegheny Country club's crack golf team defeated the Edgeworth team of Sewickley on the latter's course yesterday by the one-sided score of 18 to 0. The match is an interesting evidence of the Alleghenians' strength this season, as the strongest six was not in the field. The country club golfers were playing in their best form, while some of the Edgeworth team have hardly struck their gait as yet, having played very little. The closest match of the day was between the Hon. Elliott Rodgers and E. S. Horne, while the most interesting contest was furnished by E. M. Byers, the amateur champion, and R. P. Nevin, Jr. The latter played by far the best golf for Sewickley and lost by only two holes to the Allegheny crack. Thompson played a strong game for Allegheny, being S up on Bannon. He went the first round in 25 strokes for the nine holes and the second in 30. The teams played as follows:

Allegheny.	Edgeworth.
E. M. Byers	2 R. P. Nevin, Jr.	0
O. D. Thompson	5 S. T. Shannon	0
H. R. Shea	0 W. N. Kerr	0
Jno. Moorhead, Jr.	4 Sidney Liegett	0
E. S. Horne	0 Elliot Rodgers	0
H. R. Rea	1 F. M. Hutchinson	0
Totals	18 Total	0

The 18-hole handicap scheduled for the Allegheny Country club course today, has been postponed. On the Highland course a handicap contest will take place for a trophy offered by the club.

On the Edgeworth course at Sewickley the final 18-hole match will be played, in the mixed foursome for the two trophy cups offered by the club, between Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McVay, Jr.

The Allegheny Country club has arranged a match with the Oil City Golf club, to be played at Sewickley on June 26.

Summer Basket Ball Popular.

BUTLER, PA., June 5.—(Special.)—The summer basketball season was opened here tonight at Alameda park by a game between the Alamedas, formerly the Butler team, and the All-Stars, another local team, strengthened by Louis Seibel of Pittsburgh, whose playing was the feature of the contest. The game was hotly contested and attracted a large crowd. It promises to be popular in Butler this summer. The score: All-Stars 15, Alameda, 14.

BANKING TRACK OUT AT SCHENLEY

SUPERINTENDENT FALCONER GETTING READY FOR THE FOURTH.

The Old Flat Course Which Produced Many Accidents Will Be Changed and Some Fast Sport May Be Looked for When President Is Here.

The banking of the half mile track at the Schenley park oval was actually begun yesterday morning under the direction of Supt. Falconer and G. Wash Moore, who deserve credit for pushing the work as soon as they were authorized to undertake it. The improvement should have been made years ago, as the track was absolutely dangerous in its original form and many riders have been hurt in spills on its flat turns.

The change was promised every June for several years, but each field and track meet found the course in its old form and accidents always resulted.

The certainty that President Roosevelt will be present at the races and games on July 4 aroused the authorities, and as soon as Supt. Falconer received permission to do so he put a force of men to work on the course. More than one hundred wagon loads of earth were hauled to the Oval before noon yesterday and while the track builders were hustling, a gang of fifteen carpenters worked on the stands and fences.

Supt. Falconer, with the appropriation that is available, can make the track less dangerous and if it can be arranged to transfer other funds to the park account he promises that on the Fourth the course will be one of the fastest in the country.

For fifteen years I suffered martyrdom in being a "dyspeptic"—dizzy and blind spells, sour stomach, excessive nervousness—having had as many as three nervous chills in a night and expectorating nothing but froth after eating something which I could not digest. Ripans Tabules were recommended to me two years ago, and after taking a few boxes of them I could safely say that I was not a dyspeptic. I can eat anything I choose, I sleep well and my nervousness is only what nearly all women have when they overwork.

TESTIMONY OF INTEREST GIVEN IN PITCAIRN CASE

Some of the Hallucinations Albert Pitcairn Had Are Related.

MRS. PITCAIRN TESTIFIED

In Criminal Court Embezzlement Proceedings Against J. H. McCreery Were Quashed--Alleged Thief Sets Up Strange Alibi.

The hearing in the proceedings to have set aside the report of the lunacy commission in the case of Albert Pitcairn, now in the Dixmont insane asylum, was continued yesterday in common pleas court No. 2. Mrs. Mary Pitcairn, his wife, is the petitioner.

Mrs. Pitcairn was on the stand and told of her meeting with Albert Pitcairn and of their marriage at New Paris, Bedford county, on August 29, 1897. She said she would not have married him unless she believed him sane. The first signs of his insanity she noticed in 1900.

Upon cross-examination Mrs. Pitcairn denied she had been the wife of Charles Prout or William McMichael of Beaver Falls; that she had first met Pitcairn on the street, or that she had lived in a disreputable house with him.

A number of witnesses were called to testify to Pitcairn's sanity at the time of his marriage. Among them was Attorney J. Ross Sterrett, who denied that Pitcairn's mental condition was the result of having been relieved of the presidency of the Third National bank. Others who testified were Henry Ahlers, Louis Kable, J. E. Buetzow, A. L. Sailor, Charles Stewart, Walter Morris, Emil Winter and Fire Marshal W. D. McGill.

For the petitioner Dr. R. V. Pitcairn, a brother, was called. He told of having noticed Albert Pitcairn's failing mind late in the '90's and of his strange actions later. One of Albert Pitcairn's hallucinations was that he was to purchase the Standard Oil Company; he frequently talked of having walked extraordinary distances, and at one time he was preparing to go around the world in two weeks. It was brought out that the witness had encouraged and indorsed his brother's business movements during 1897. The case is still on.

IN THE CRIMINAL COURT.

Embezzlement Charge Against McCreery Quashed--Strange Defense of Nelson.

In criminal court the charge of embezzlement against Attorney J. H. McCreery was quashed on motion of Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb on the ground that the two years statute of limitations for bringing suits had expired. McCreery was charged with embezzling $200 from H. J. Hays on March 13, 1900.

It developed later that a queer "mixup" had taken place. It is said to have been caused by a clerical error, the figure "1" being taken for an "9." The indictment against McCreery showed that the alleged offense occurred in "1960" and Assistant District Attorney John S. Robb, Jr., asked that it be quashed, as the statute of limitations intervened. This was done and McCreery was discharged. Hays, it appears, had fixed the date as 1901, but it was plainly 1900 in the indictment. Hays went before Alderman J. V. McMasters after the error was discovered and made another charge against McCreery. The latter was arrested and gave bail for a hearing tomorrow.

John Nelson, colored, was placed on trial for stealing a pocketbook containing $6 from Ella McSteen. During the December term a man named Louis H. Hill pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny and was sentenced to the workhouse on December 3 for three months. Nelson claims that he is that man and that he was not released from the workhouse until March 2. Miss McSteen says her pocketbook was stolen on February 28. The case was held over until this morning, when the workhouse authorities will be brought into court to testify as to the truth of the defendant's statement.

Mary O'Neal, alias Mary Bartley, was found guilty of a charge of larceny by bailee preferred by F. S. Zeigler. She purchased furniture on the installment plan and gave a false address with the intention of defrauding the prosecutor.

Disregarding the instructions of Judge J. A. Evans, a jury returned a verdict of acquittal in the case of Charles H. Brown, charged with receiving stolen goods. It was alleged that Brown bought coal stolen from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Several young boys testified that they had stolen and sold 1½ bushels of coal to Brown for 15 cents. The boys also said that they had been stealing and selling coal for nearly a year. Brown admitted buying the coal, but said he did not know it had been stolen. Judge Evans, in charging the jury, stated that Brown ought to be convicted.

Henry J. Lindeman was acquitted of a charge of false pretense preferred by W. F. Wilson and the costs were placed on the latter. Wilson and Linderman were formerly in partnership under the firm name of Wilson & Linderman.

MILLER REFUSES $10,000.

Another Chapter in the Long-Drawn-Out Monongahela House Litigation.

The report of Samuel McClay, master in the equity proceedings of Florence C. Miller against Jacob N. Donaldson, under which the Monongahela House property was transferred, was filed. He claims credit for $260,000 and has a balance of $354,941 76 for distribution, as follows: Executors of the estate of Charles J. Clarke, $88,735 44; Annie M. Donaldson, $35,494 18; Kate C. Hays, $35,494 18; Virginia C. Dilworth, $35,494 18; Alexnia C. Blair, $35,494 17; trustee of William M. Crossan, $35,494 17; for mortgage given by Florence C. Miller to Allegheny Trust Company, $48,716 66; judgment against Florence C. Miller to Robert Sleeth, $10,255 25; to secure the legacy of Hampton J. Miller, $15,000; Florence C. Miller, $14,763 59.

An order was made returning Florence C. Miller $10,000 hand money paid on the property, which he refused to accept.

In the Probate Office.

The will of Capt. Robert B. Robinson of Pittsburgh was filed for probate. The estate is worth $25,000. Emma C. and Minnie A. Robinson, daughters, are bequeathed property in Hazelwood avenue and money in bank. Rolla and A. G. Robinson are left property in Blair street and Mrs. John B. Kearcher is given 10 shares of Hazelwood Savings and Trust Company stock, and $1,000.

By the will of John C. Boyce of Plum township, an estate worth $9,200 goes to William Boyce, a brother.

Letters of administration were granted to George W. Parkinson on the $35,000 estate of James M. Parkinson.

An inventory and appraisement of the estate of John Caldwell, Jr., shows the following personal property: Interest in the firm of Caldwell & Bro., $58,152 27; stock in the Allegheny National bank, $18,954; Union Bridge Company stock, $180.

An inventory and appraisement of the estate of Charles A. Millar shows a valuation of $4,195 88.

In Speaking for Spooner Amendment He Points Out Advantages of That Canal Route.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—In further consideration of the isthmian canal project the senate heard today two speeches, neither of which was completed. Mr. Hanna spoke in favor of the Spooner amendment, conferring on the president authority to purchase the rights of the Panama Canal Company if a valid title could be obtained, otherwise he shall decide upon the Nicaragua route. Mr. Mitchell supported the Hepburn bill for the construction of the canal by the Nicaragua route.

Seldom has a senator been accorded a more attentive hearing than that given Mr. Hanna. The Panama route he considered much to be preferred to the Nicaragua route, as it provides an interoceanic waterway much shorter and one that could be traversed at less expense than the Nicaragua route. He pointed out the volcanic dangers of the Nicaragua route, and denied that the purpose of the Spooner amendment was to procrastinate the canal project.

Mr. Mitchell urged that unless the Nicaragua route is determined upon definitely by congress it would mean the indefinite postponement, and perhaps the ultimate defeat, of any canal legislation. He insisted that the Nicaragua route is entirely feasible and practicable, while the Panama route involves difficulties which can hardly be surmounted.

POPE LEO GREETS COMMISSION FROM THE UNITED STATES

Condition of Catholic Church Property in Philippines Is Discussed.

HIS HOLINESS GETS GIFT FROM ROOSEVELT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROME, June 5.—The pope today received Judge Taft, civil governor of the Philippine islands; Bishop Thomas O'Gorman of Sioux Falls, S. D.; Judge Smith and Maj. Porter of the judge advocate's department at Washington. The Americans were conducted to the pope's private library. Judge Taft presented to the pontiff a letter from President Roosevelt and a box containing the president's literary works. The pope expressed his thanks for Mr. Roosevelt's friendly greetings, promised to study the Philippine question, and said he hoped for good results. The pontiff asked Judge Taft to thank President Roosevelt for his gift. The audience lasted 40 minutes.

Judge Taft subsequently met Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, and opened the discussion of Philippine matters.

While talking with the pope Gov. Taft reviewed the questions in the Philippines which require settlement. He pointed out that the readjustment of the relations of church and state in the islands was not an indication of hostility of the United States to the Catholic church, but declared that such readjustment was necessary under the American constitution.

Gov. Taft referred to the prosperity and the freedom of the Roman Catholic church in the United States and cited these conditions as an assurance that the Vatican had nothing to fear from the extension of the authority of the United States over the Philippine Islands.

The pontiff expressed the greatest pride in the Roman Catholic church in the United States and intense interest in the republic. He said he earnestly desired to help the American administration of the Philippines in every possible way and assured Gov. Taft that the Vatican would approach all questions raised in the broadest and most conciliatory spirit. The pope said the matters of detail would be referred to a committee of cardinals.

The pope appeared to be in excellent health and was of vivacious humor.

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Special.)—The Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company has completed its new station near Bridgehampton, Long Island. This will supplement the Nantucket's station work in furnishing maritime information.

The American steamship line will install the Marconi system on the St. Paul and St. Louis. The United States coast survey has made arrangements to use the device on one of its steamers and the United States signal corps will employ it in Alaska. The company expects to complete its primary station at South Wellfleet, Cape Cod, for transoceanic messages on or about June 22.

Bellamy Storer's Hopes Deferred.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—Bellamy Storer, United States minister at Madrid, who has been in this country on a leave of absence for two months, called at the state department today prior to returning to his port. It was understood when Mr. Storer returned to the United States last April that he would be promoted to an ambassadorship at some other court; but the expected vacancy in the embassies has not yet occurred.

AMERICAN RELICS IN GERMAN MUSEUM

Souvenirs of Prince Henry's Trip Collected by the Emperor.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, June 5.—Emperor William has turned over several hundred souvenirs of the trip of Prince Henry of Prussia in the United States to the Hohenzollern museum. Conspicuously hung in this collection is a cartoon representing President Roosevelt in the uniform of the German Garde du Corps and Emperor William in the uniform of an officer of the United States army, both bowing profoundly. Below this cartoon are copies of the emperor's message to President Roosevelt announcing Prince Henry's trip to the United States, and President Roosevelt's reply.

The collection includes a silver plate engraved with the music of the German song sung by the American Saengerbund, which took the Emperor William prize; an album containing references to Prince Henry published in New York newspapers, which have been printed upon silk; a collection of the landscape photographs which were given to Prince Henry with the autographs of the donors. These pictures have been reproduced from copper plates.

Copies of the engrossed resolutions presented to Prince Henry by various societies and menu cards in gold frames are also in the collection, as are portraits embroidered on silk of Emperor William and Prince Henry.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO ARMY SURGEONS

He Reminds Them in Time of Need They Must Put Up With Inadequate Supplies.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—President Roosevelt today opened the eleventh annual convention of the Association of Military Surgeons of the United States. On the stage with the president sat Secretary of War Root, Secretary of the Navy Moody, Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, Secretary Cortelyou, Surgeon General Sternberg of the army; Surgeon General Rixey of the navy; Surgeon General Wyman of the marine hospital service, and other eminent men. In his speech the president said:

"Conditions in modern civilization tend more and more to make the average life of the community one of great softness, of great ease, compared to what has been the case in the past; and, gentlemen, together with all the advantages that have come from this softness of life, this rendering it more easy, there are certain attendant disadvantages, also. It is a very necessary thing that there should be some professions, some trades where the same demands are made now as have been made in the past, upon the heroic qualities in a man, and those demands are made alike upon the soldier and upon the doctor, and how much more upon those who are both soldiers and doctors; upon the men who have continually to face all the responsibility and all the risk faced by their brothers in the civilian branch of the profession, and who also in time of war must face much the same risks, often exactly the same risks, that are faced by their brothers in arms whose training is to kill and not to cure. (Laughter and applause.)

"Pay all possible heed to the scientific side of your work. Perfect yourselves as scientific men, able to work with the best and most delicate apparatus, and never for one moment forget, especially the higher officers among you, that in time of need you will have to do your work with the scantiest possible apparatus (laughter and applause) and that then your usefulness will be proportioned not upon the adequacy of the complaint that you did not have enough, but upon the way you have done with what you have. (Loud applause.) Remember that, and remember, also (this applies especially to the higher officers), that you have got to supplement in your calling the work of the surgeon with the work of the administrator. (Applause.) You have got to be doctors and military men and able administrators."

You can sink steadily into some incurable disease through neglect of the warning signs—tremors, giddiness, numbness, flushes of heat and cold—but all of these can be cured with Dr. D. Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge.

FRENCH PRESIDENT CALLED A THIEF BY PARLIAMENT MEMBER

Accusation Precipitates Fist Fight in the Chamber of Deputies.

CHALLENGE FOR DUEL MEETS WITH REBUFF

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, June 5.—During a dispute in the chamber of deputies today De Largentaye, a reactionary deputy from the Cotes-du-Nord, exclaimed:

"Yes, you Republicans are swindlers and traitors, and, in a way, foreigners."

A number of Republican deputies retorted hotly, whereupon De Largentaye added, excitedly:

"And your president of the republic is a thief."

A scrimmage, during which fisticuffs were exchanged, ensued, half a dozen deputies, including the Marquis de Dion, Millevoye and Meslier, taking part in the fighting.

The fight occurred in the room of the committee of the chamber, which was engaged in the verification of the recent elections. The dispute arose over Nationalist posters, in which the Republicans were attacked in violent language.

Several of the Nationalist deputies today approved these expressions, and in the row which followed the participants freely exchanged insults, such as "blackguard" and "thief." An official of the chamber had to intervene between the combatants. Deputy Bachimont, having called Millevoye a scoundrel, the latter sent Bachimont his seconds, the Count de Dion and De Largentaye, who, in their official account of the interview, said:

"We informed M. Bachimont of the object of our mission. He replied with a filthy expression. The Count de Dion retorted by slapping his face."

Bachimont, to the foregoing, published this terse reply: "Count de Dion says he slapped my face. This is a lie."

It is reported that De Largentaye will be prosecuted for insulting President Loubet.

Henri Brisson, the former premier, who is a Radical Republican in politics, went to the Elysee palace today as a result of President Loubet's summons and was asked to form a new cabinet, but Brisson declined.

Later in the day Senator Combes, Progressive Republican and former vice president of the senate, accepted the task of forming a new cabinet.

DEMUR TO LARKINS' ANSWER.

Mercantile Trust Co. Heard from Again in Highland Reservoir Matter.

A demurrer was filed by the Mercantile Trust Company to the answer of City Controller John B. Larkin in the matter of the petition for a mandamus to compel him to issue a warrant for part payment of work upon the new Highland reservoir. A rule was also granted upon Attorneys George W. Guthrie and W. B. Rodgers to show by what authority they represent the controller and asking why their appearance should not be stricken from the record.

In the demurrer it is alleged that the admission of certain exhibits is authority for the trust company to bring suit, and that there is no denial that the work was not performed.

It is claimed the allegations of the controller are not sufficient to prevent the writ of mandamus, and that the allegation that prior estimates were improperly certified and warrants issued is not sufficient answer to the demand for the present warrant, and that the controller has no authority to insist upon the provisions of the contract stipulating a fine in case the contract is not completed at the time specified.

It is also held that the controller has no authority to appoint a supervising engineer and that the allegations regarding actions of E. M. Bigelow when director of the department of public works are immaterial.

BEET SUGAR MEN FIRM.

No Agreement Reached at First Conference With Reciprocity Advocates in Senate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.—The committee appointed by the beet sugar senators, consisting of Senators Elkins, Burrows and Jones of Nevada, to confer with the Republican members of the senate committee on Cuban relations as to the degree of relief to be given to the Cubans in the way of tariff concessions or otherwise, had its first meeting with that committee today. The meeting was attended on the part of the committee by Senators Platt of Connecticut, Cullom and Spooner. No agreement was reached and an adjournment was taken until tomorrow.

The proposition to grant a rebate on Cuban products was made by the beet sugar representatives. The representatives of the beet sugar interests said in effect it would be impossible to secure solid Republican support of any plan for tariff reduction, owing to the injurious effect upon the infant industry of beet sugar.

Their proposition was not flatly rejected, but Mr. Platt said on behalf of the majority of the committee that he is not now prepared or disposed to accept it.

The conference for a time took the shape of a discussion of the wisdom of a general revision of the tariff, but it was generally agreed that this is not desirable from any point of view.

Wage Advance Was Refused.

The conference between the chimney blowers of the American Flint Glassworkers' union and the manufacturers adjourned yesterday, the manufacturers refusing to grant the 5 per cent advance in wages asked. The Macbeth-Evans Company will settle separately with its employes on the machine question, without interference from the other manufacturers. The company wishes to increase the number of moves, but this will probably be refused by the union. A conference will be held today.

DEFICIENCY IN RAINFALL.

Precipitation for the Present Year Not Up to the Average.

There was a marked deficiency in the amount of rain which fell last month as compared with the rainfall in May, 1901. There is an accumulated deficiency in the rainfall during the present year of 2.87 inches. Last month the total precipitation only amounted to 2.70 inches. Last month the total precipitation only amounted to 2.30 inches, against 5.80 inches in May, 1901.

In May of 1900 the total precipitation was only 1.34 inches. During that year, however, there were only about four months in which coalboats could be shipped. Some rivermen adhere to the belief that the summer is going to be a dry one, but there is no telling what nature will do.

News of the Rivers.

The towboat J. C. Reynolds is due in port to do light towing.

The towboat John Moren came as far as Raccoon yesterday and laid up.

John W. Jiles bought the steamer F. K. Hulings for $7,000 at United States marshal's sale.

The towboat Joseph B. Williams is due at Louisville from New Orleans, with her tow of empties.

The steamer Gertrude passed Ashland, Ky., at 11 o'clock yesterday morning on her way to Pittsburgh.

No names have as yet been selected for the new pool towboats being built to take the place of the Charles Jutte and Little Bill.

The steamer Pearl Smith is running in the Dunbar's place, there not being enough water to enable the latter boat to come through to Pittsburgh.

Capt. George Howder has been appointed commander of the Tom Dodsworth and Capt. Albert Eckert has been appointed to command the Mariner.

The Florence Bolle was aground yesterday in Duff, but was expected to arrive in port last night, after delivering her cargo to the steamer Queen City.

The steamer J. C. Woodward is expected to be afloat early next week. It has been decided to build a bulkhead around the boat in order to accomplish her raising.

Beginning today and ending June 10 is the time to look for a shipping stage in the rivers. Theodora Poe predicted some time ago that one would come between these dates.

W. N. Gordon, general freight agent of the Monongahela River Packet Company, the new line of Morgantown packets, has been up the Monongahela valley for several days appointing agents.

On account of the falling river it is believed that the Lorena, from Zanesville, will not be able to come to Pittsburgh. She was due in port last night, and every effort will be made to bring her through.

The towboat Friend is said to have recovered some of the rails which were sunk in the Mississippi some weeks ago, when the towboat J. B. Finley met with an accident. The model barge sunk at the time has turned turtle.

As the war between England and the Boers is at an end it is expected that the coal merchants at New Orleans will lose a good customer. It required much coal to run the mule ships between Port Orleans and South Africa.

The steamer Virginia may not be able to come above Rochester on her present trip, but notwithstanding the conditions, Capt. James A. Henderson expects to keep his Cincinnati packets going, for he anticipates a rise in a day or two.

No difficulty is being experienced now at St. Louis by the captains in securing enough rousters for the boats, and more applications are received than can be given berths. On the lower river, however, it is reported that the boats can hardly be manned, owing to the scarcity of the men.

Frank Middlecough has been appointed steward of the new independent Morgantown packet Elizabeth, which will leave tomorrow at 3 p. m. on her first trip to Morgantown. Charles F. Foster, assistant secretary and treasurer of the line, has invited the river reporters of the various Pittsburgh newspapers to be his guests on this initial trip.

Capt. T. J. Hall has sold to the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Company the 12 large model barges which he some time ago purchased from the St. Louis & Mississippi Valley Transportation Company. Capt. Hall practically rebuilt all of them at the Queen City marine ways and they are said to be as good as new. Capt. Hall now has but four small models left. New model barges cost about $12,000 each.

Charles E. Moody, aged 19, a mail clerk on the steamer Jos Fowler, which plies between Paducah and Evansville, was arrested a few days ago at his home in Shawneetown, Ill., by United States Postoffice Inspector Kyle, of Louisville, on the charge of stealing $104 from a registered letter. He was lodged in jail. It is said similar charges will be lodged against him in Illinois, it being alleged that he took $400 from four other letters.

KITCHENER GETS $250,000 DESPITE IRISH OBJECTION

Debate on the Grant Caused an Uproar in House of Commons.

DILLON BECAME VIOLENT

Accused the Commander-in-Chief of Waging War on Women and Children in South Africa—His Voice Drowned by Noise.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

London, June 5.—The house of commons today voted the grant of £50,000 to Lord Kitchener in accordance with King Edward's message to the house of commons yesterday. Mr. Balfour, in supporting the motion, referred to Lord Kitchener's rapid promotion. He said it had been given to few public servants to compass so much work for their country in so short a time as Lord Kitchener, who, besides being commander-in-chief in South Africa, was commander-in-chief designate of India.

John Dillon, Irish Nationalist, led the opposition in behalf of the Nationalists. Mr. Dillon said he and his friends absolutely objected to the vote, because they were opposed to the policy of the war in South Africa and the conduct of the campaign, which involved wholesale devastation of the country, the burning of farms and sacrifice of life.

William Redmond, Irish Nationalist, caused a scene of great disorder by remarking that Lord Kitchener would go down to history as a general who had "made war on women and children." These remark called forth loud cries of "withdraw," and appeals to the chairman to call Mr. Redmond to order. The chairman said the expression used was not disorderly, but a majority of the house refused to listen any further to Mr. Redmond and interrupted him with all kinds of shouts.

Voice Drowned by Noise.

Mr. Redmond said he desired to repeat that Lord Kitchener was responsible for the death of 15,000 children, and that he had warred on women and children. That was his absolute conviction and he refused to withdraw the words. The country was living in an atmosphere of hypocrisy. When a man spoke the truth he was gagged.

Mr. Redmond's remarks were almost unhearable, owing to the uproar caused by the cheers of the Irish Nationalists and the protests of the members of other parties. The chairman replied to Mr. Redmond's appeal for a hearing, that it was impossible to control the house to which his speech appeared distasteful.

Mr. Redmond indulged in considerable violence of language, and had to be refreshed by a drink brought in by a friend. He said that as an additional reason why he objected to the vote was because Lord Kitchener had violated the tomb of the Mahdi at Khartoum. Then, turning to the ministerial benches, Mr. Redmond shouted, "You allow the women and children of soldiers to starve, in order to honor the favorites of your corrupt society."

Closure Was Applied.

This statement was greeted with shouts of "Sit down!" "Name him!" "Divide!" while the Irish members jeeringly advised the ministerialists to call in the police.

Amid the din Mr. Redmond was heard to say that the house was disgracing itself in compensating the commander of the British forces in South Africa while allowing the men who had fought there to drift into the workhouse.

After a quarter of an hour spent by Mr. Redmond in fruitless endeavor to obtain a hearing the closure was moved and adopted by 273 to 138 votes and the grant to Lord Kitchener was carried by 380 to 44 votes. The minority consisted of Irish Nationalists and two or three Radicals.

When Mr. Balfour rose to move a vote of thanks to the officers and men of the army of South Africa the uproar was renewed by the Irish Nationalists as a protest against the treatment of Mr. Redmond.

The speaker of the house of commons, William Court Gully, thereupon appeared and asked them to desist, for the interest of freedom of debate, to which John Redmond, the Irish leader, retorted that it was exactly in the interest of such freedom that the Irish Nationalists protested.

Mr. Balfour was then allowed to proceed. He said there was no object parallel for the motion. Never before had Great Britain sent so vast an army beyond the seas, never before had she fought such a great campaign without allies, and she had never been so aided by volunteers and colonial troops, who[illegible]or and humanity he praised.

Secret Decree of Divorce From Harry Hardy Made Public in Cincinnati—No Defense.

CINCINNATI, June 5.—(Special.)—The secret divorce of Rose Melville, the actress, well known for her impersonation of "Sis Hopkins," granted Tuesday by Judge Scott W. Smith, was made public today. By the decree, Miss Melville was restored to her maiden name, Smoch. The couple were wedded at Marion, O., January 7, 1889. Hardy filed no answer in the case. He is deprived of all right to participate in any property settlement.

PIG IRON SUPPLY CONTRACTED FOR LONG TIME AHEAD

The Transient Customer Seeks Supplies in Vain, There Being No Market.

SEARCH FOR SCRAP FAILS

Railroads Placing Heavy Orders for Rails for Delivery Next Year—Replacing Old With Heavier Ones. End of Copper Wire Pool.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 5.—The concerns producing bar iron are sold out so far ahead that there is practically no market for this product now. Many buyers who are in urgent want of material for both immediate and future delivery are having very great difficulty in getting the iron they need and some of them cannot be accommodated. Not a few mills are two or more months behind in their deliveries.

It is expected in the trade that prices will be advanced. The probability of this is so immediate that the Republic Iron and Steel Company has notified its agents to make no more contracts until advised to the contrary.

The uncertainties of the situation are heightened by labor troubles. Conditions are such that it is believed the association cannot but advance prices. The association's minimum price now is $1 80, Pittsburgh, and $1 93, New York. The last sales recorded here were at $2 05 and $2 10 per 100 pounds. Bar iron from the stores cost as much as $2 25 per 100 pounds. It is said to be foregone that at the next meeting of the association the minimum quotation will be raised to nearer a parity with market conditions. A prominent producer said today that his concern might sell the whole of its output for the next 12 months at the extreme high prices now prevailing. It is restrained from entering into contracts running so far into the future only by numerous uncertainties in the present situation.

Unavailing Search for Scrap Iron.

The scarcity of scrap iron has not been relieved. Agents who have been sent all over the country in search of scrap iron seem not to have found enough to relieve the situation in any substantial manner.

It is reported on excellent authority that the American Steel Hoop Company, a constituent of the United States Steel Corporation, is selling bar iron at the very top of the market. This does not agree with the combine's avowed policy of maintaining prices according to the association's schedule. The American Steel Hoop Company's output of bar iron, however, is comparatively small. The combine purposes to run its constituent properties more and more exclusively to steel products, and in view of these qualifications the fact that the Steel Hoop Company is selling bar iron above the association's minimum price may not be significant of anything in particular.

Information was received in iron trade circles here today that the strike of furnace men in the Mahoning and Shenango valleys is about to be settled and that the furnaces now idle will all be running again in a few days. This information came to headquarters here in New York direct from the company's agents in the field, and it is believed to be wholly reliable. Producing interests, however, have not yielded a fraction.

Advance Demand for Rails.

Officials of steel rail concerns report that orders for material for delivery in 1903 are coming in more rapidly than anticipated. The president of one company today said that something like 400,000 tons had been ordered for next year, exclusive of the tonnage that had been contracted for delivery this year, but which would be carried over into the following year.

It was said that from inquiries received, railroad construction next year would be conducted on a more extensive scale than in the current year. The demand arises to a large extent from the substitution of heavy rails for light rails in consequence of heavier rolling stock. In the west a number of railroads are figuring on modernizing their lines, which means that heavier rails will take the place of light ones.

At $28 a ton the output of steel rails next year (estimated at 2,500,000 tons) will represent gross sales of the different steel rail concerns of about $70,000,000. As the largest producer of steel rails, the United States Steel Corporation will receive the bulk of that sum. The life of a steel rail is estimated at 15 years. On this basis, the railroads would have to replace 69,896,000 yards of track each year with new rails. This is but 500,000 tons under the estimated production of the current year. The demand for structural material corresponds very closely with the demand for steel rails.

Copper Wire Pool to Be Dissolved.

The pool of insulated copper wire manufacturers, composed of about 18 different companies, including the Roeblings, the American Steel & Wire Company and the Okonite Company, is about to be dissolved. The Safety Insulated Wire & Cable Company gave notice some time ago that it intended to withdraw from the pool on June 11, and it has steadfastly refused to withdraw its notice, although pressure has been brought to bear upon it by other manufacturers. It is believed that the dissolution of the pool will be followed at once by severe competition, and possibly by sharp cuts in prices.

Allis-Chalmers Meeting.

The first annual meeting of the Allis-Chalmers Company, in which United States Steel officials are largely interested, was held in Jersey City today. Edward D. Adams, Frank G. Bigelow, Mark T. Cox, Henry W. Hoyt, and Edwin Reynolds, were re-elected directors. There were 151,540 shares of preferred stock and 180,980 shares of the common stock represented at the meeting, out of a total of 162,500 preferred and 200,000 common.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

NEW YORK, June 5.—The mines of Utah give promise of making a new record this year. Last month's output was valued at $1,965,960. To this amount the Highland Boy smelter contributed $216,360 and the Bingham Consolidated plant turned out bullion valued at $122,100. During the corresponding month of last year the production was $1,712,768. Some of the camps have shown a shrinkage in tonnage, but this was more than made up by the appearance of many new shippers. This month the new tariff on the low grades of Tintic probably will tend to further increase the aggregate of output. Dividends amounting to $200,000 were distributed the month.

Negotiations are proceeding for the consolidation of the Morning Star, Frisco, Zelnora and other Clipper hill properties at Bingham. This week the Frisco has been operating one second-class ore from the Ben Butler and will soon start on ore from a lead dump of the Highland Boy. An important strike is reported from the crosscut from the main tunnel of the Sturgis.

The tunnel of the Lucania near Idaho Springs, Col., is now in 125 feet and has cut three good veins, one being 3 feet, one at 85 feet and the other at 125 feet. The last is five feet wide and of true fissure formation, carrying heavy sulphide ore.

The Wolverine group on Telleck mountain, in the White Signal district, N. M., owned by the Gibson Development Company, is being thoroughly prospected. Numerous veins of high grade copper and iron ores have been exposed.

Good ore has been encountered on the 800-foot level of the Bunker Hill, Cal., and the indications are good for the 900-foot level. Electric power is to be installed at the mine and wood-burning and steam abandoned.

The Metal Market.

The local market for copper reflected firmness with sales aggregating 200,000 pounds electrolytic in lots of 100,000 pounds each at July, August and September delivery at $12 25. The closing prices were: Standard, spot to August, $17 05@17 85; Lake, $12 25@12 50; electrolytic, $12 12½@12 25 and casting, $12 00@12 25. At London copper was about unchanged.

Wall Street's Busiest Day This Week

THREE STRIKES OUTWEIGHED BY MORE PRESSURE

What Might Have Been an Active Market Kept Down by Labor Troubles.

UNEASY OVER PETITION

Holders of Coal Railroad Stock Not Reassured by Report That the President Had Intervention to Ease the Situation Under Consideration.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, June 5.—There was more business in stocks today than on any day of the week. The increased activity was a result of additional pressure to sell. The disposition to sell was not confined to any one portion of the list and was quite evenly distributed among the usually prominent stocks. The selling was not urgent, but was persistent, and gained in volume toward the latter part of the day. Probably the most effective single factor in the weakness of the market was a general feeling of anxiety over the developments in the labor world. The high tension to which feeling has been raised in the anthracite region, as shown by boycott measures and public demonstrations by friends of the strikers, caused uneasiness, which was intensified by the example of the violence in the Chicago teamsters' strike. In the ranks of the operators and the financial powers in the coal industry there was some feeling manifested over the step taken by the New York board of trade and transportation in sending a petition to the president to intervene and take measures to effect a settlement of the questions in dispute.

No Reassurance from Capital.

The report from Washington that the suggestion was under consideration by the chief executive did not tend to reassure the holders of stocks of railroads and they were inclined to lighten their holdings. Reports that strikers in the valley iron foundries were prepared to resume work first called attention in Wall street to this threatened trouble in the iron trade and had rather a depressing influence than otherwise. The lake freight handlers' strike and the delay to iron ore deliveries also received new consideration.

The reports of continued heavy orders for all grades of iron products for delivery far into the future did not avail to relieve the heaviness of the United States Steel stocks and other iron and steel stocks. The selling of the grangers seemed to be due, to some extent, to reports of too abundant rains in the southwest, and also to the falling back in the figures of receipts of corn. The late reaction in the grain markets after early strength did not change the weak tone of the grangers.

C. & N. W. Stronger.

Chicago & Northwestern was marked up 2 points on the announcement of the long-heralded extra dividend on the stock, but half of the gain was lost. Hocking Valley reflected disappointment over the declaration of only the former dividend rate. The large profit taking in Canadian Pacific at a total reaction of 4 points had a sympathetic effect on the whole list. Amalgamated Copper was depressed by the weakness of the market for raw copper and was not affected by a trade circular pointing out great improvement in the trade.

The continued rise in sterling exchange gave birth to some apprehension that exchange had started toward the gold export point on account of the easier tone of the money market. The approach of the crop moving period is constantly narrowing the time before interior demands for currency will begin to deplete the supply of funds available for speculative use. The combined effect of various items of depression was a dribble of realizing all day, which carried prices downward until the close, which was near at the lowest.

Active liquidation of the Central of Georgia income bonds had a depressing effect on the bond market. Total sales, par value, $2,970,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on the last call.

Many Wells, but Little Oil

Operations in the lower southwest fields had another dull day. Nothing but light wells and dusters were found in any quarter. Neither in West Virginia nor southeastern Ohio was a well completed capable of producing 50 barrels a day and in all there was a score drilled in or completed.

In the fifth sand development in the old Fairview district, Marion county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company has completed its No. 13 on the Sheen Yost farm and has a seven-barrel pumper in the lower sand. This was an old Big Injun sand well that was drilled down to the Fifth sand. It will be remembered that the Fisher Oil Company drilled a deep well in the same location last year and got a 25-barrel producer. None of the wells completed since then made so good a showing.

On Blacksville, Greene county, Pa., the South Penn Oil Company has completed its test well on the John Hugh farm and has a light gasser.

On Hickwood run, Wetzel county, the Carter Oil Company has completed its No. 8 on the John Willey farm in the Big Injun sand and has a duster in that sand. It is now drilling to the Gordon.

Northeast of the Wolf Summit field in Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has completed a test well of some importance on the Jacob Bland farm and has a 15-barrel pumper in the fifth sand.

Northeast of the fifth sand development on Indian run, Ritner county, the same company has completed its test well on the H. H. Coldsmith farm and has a small fifth sand pumper.

In the Scott district, Doddridge county, the Carter Oil Company has completed and shot its No. 5 on the W. & M. Williams farm and has a show for a 10-barrel well in the Gordon sand. In the same district the Carter Company has drilled its test well on the S. M. Hughes farm to the Berea sand and has found nothing at that level and is now drilling to the Gordon.

In the Fish Creek district, Marshall county, the South Penn Oil Company is drilling in the sand at its No. 8 on the Nathan Shepherd farm and has a show for a good producer.

On McKim creek, Tyler county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 14 on the J. L. Pho farm is holding up at 155 barrels a day.

North of Bristoria, Greene county, Pa., the Natural Gas Company of W. Va. is due in the sand at a test well on the Iams farm. The completion of this well is awaited with some interest, for the reason that it is located in new territory and only a short distance from the Mechanicsburg farm, on which the same company completed a fair producer early in the year.

Southeastern Ohio.

On the Ohio side in the Graysville development in Monroe county the Fisher Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the Sarah H. Knowlton farm and has a 30-barrel producer in the Keener sand.

Local Stocks Were Quite Active and the Market Generally Higher

HEAVY BUYING OF PREFERRED STEEL STOCKS

Crucible Steels Advanced While the U. S. Steels Went Down.

ANOTHER BANK ABSORBED

Mechanics National Directors Approve Its Sale to the First National—Several New High Records Reached—Window Glass Easier.

The market on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday was more active than it has been for some time, while the tone as a whole was considerably firmer, first prices showing a general increase in value. The features of the day were in the industrial and banking groups, particularly the former. Pre-eminent in the trading was Crucible Steel and United States Steel. Crucible Steel preferred sold over 4,100 shares, opening strong at 87 and advancing to 87½. Just before the close it reacted to 87¼ and finished firm at 87¼ bid, the net gain for the day in the selling price being ⅝. The common stock was quite firm and ⅛ higher at 22, though that was ⅛ below the price reached shortly after the opening. All told 1,070 shares changed hands. The buying of these stocks was attributed to two primary causes: First, the settlement of the disagreements which are alleged to have racked the company for some time, by the election of Reuben Miller to the presidency; and, second, to purchases made for a prominent local multimillionaire who has been credited with heavy buying in the east recently. Mr. Miller's election to the presidency might be termed a "bear" card on the common stock, but a big bull one for the preferred. He is recognized as a pre-eminently successful man in the crucible steel business, probably the best in the land, and his control means the further advancement of the property. At the same time, the common stock holders abandon hopes for early dividends, because they believe his policy to be opposed to such action. For this reason he is considered a "bear" card on the common. The argument, however, is weak, for by waiting a year or two before startling the common dividends the company will undoubtedly be in a far better, stronger condition than ever, and both the common and preferred holders will be benefited. The principal buying was by a house that is said to occasionally execute important orders for another firm, and was supposed to be for a gentleman whose name has been recently mentioned as a probable member of the company's board of directors. The trading was the most active the stock has had in months. The movement in United States Steel was also conspicuous, the preferred selling over 2,800 shares and the common nearly 1,000. The selling of the preferred was principally by one house, and, it was hinted, was for a prominent insider who was taking that means of getting some ready cash at a profit, for another deal. The stock closed at 88¾, a decline of 1⅛ for the day. In New York it finished firm at 89¼ bid, the sales there being 10,400 shares. The common was also quite active, selling nearly 1,000 shares at 39¾ to 39⅝, closing at the low point, sales and offered.

In the remaining business the principal interest was in the banking group, principally Mechanics National bank stock. A week ago yesterday, that is, Thursday, May 29, President Gorman of the Mechanics National bank pronounced as absolutely false and absurd a report that his institution was to be absorbed by the First National bank of Pittsburgh. Yesterday, Mechanics National bank stock advanced $18 to $150, at which price 18 shares were sold. Later the buyers bid the stock up to $153 and at the close it offered (100 shares) at 145, 141 being the best bid. Then the story leaked out that the directors of the Mechanics had approved a proposition to sell the stock to the First National at $140 a share. President Gorman himself confirmed the story and said that the proposition would shortly be formally submitted to the stockholders. He explained his denial of the reports of a week ago by saying that the proposition had not then been considered. Other big deals are still reported as in a process of incubation, and though now denied officially, are expected to reach the announcement stage before long. State bank sold 10 shares at 60, an advance of 87 and a new high record. Allegheny Trust was 3 higher at 154 and American Trust 3½ lower at 120. In the quotations City Deposit bank advanced $1 to 170 bid, a new high record, and the Second National of Pittsburgh $10 to $850, also a new high record.

The chief activity in the other sales was in American Window Glass common, which sold 1,090 shares and closed ¼ lower at 61. The preferred did not sell. Pittsburgh Plate Glass common was $1 lower at 140 and United States Glass common ¼ lower at 34, for 350 shares. Pittsburgh Brewing common was firm and quite active, 1,080 shares selling at 26⅜ to 26⅝, the close being a gain of ⅛. The coal stocks were very dull, but about steady, the changes in value being immaterial. Bonds were steady, but very dull.

Kuhn Bros. bought liberally of United States Steel common at the close, getting 700 shares at 39⅝. Robinson Bros. sold 300 and Sproul & Co. 400.

Chicago Union Traction has again been defeated in an effort to get its claim to a 99-year franchise before the federal court. The case will be appealed.

Whitney & Stephenson were again large buyers of River Coal common, taking a block of 682 shares from Robinson Bros. shortly after noon. The price was 12¾.

During the first half hour Preston, Watt & Schoyer sold a block of 350 United States Steel preferred at 87¾. This is the largest trade in the stock for some time.

In Wall street liquidation of speculative accounts was evident and there were signs that tired holders were letting go. The western interests were rather heavy sellers of railroads.

There is a good deal of bullish talk on trenchant grounds of the increased value of those properties during the summer will. It is claimed, render it easy to make them active and strong features in the market.

It is claimed that the Harriman interest has been increasing its holdings in Union Pacific recently, and there have arrived intimations that some combination of the leading express organizations is contemplated.

Carothers & Co. marketed about 650 Crucible Steel preferred; A. E. Masters & Co. bought 500 preferred on shares, the biggest buying order in the stock in weeks; Sproul & Co. operated largely on both sides of the market.

At noon R. J. Stoney, Jr., made a new high record for Mechanics National bank by selling 15 shares at 150 to Joy & Beatty. The following prices are the newest quotations on record. We are banking on large crops to liquidate our indebtedness to Europe. With such conditions and with the unrest prevailing among labor there is nothing attractive on the bear side of the market. With very good stocks selling on an ultra investment basis what is there to tempt the speculator?—Dick.

Conservative interests are giving much attention to the recent expansion of loans. Although between February 25 and April 30, New York banks decreased loans of $37,000,000, there was a net increase in the whole country's loans of $44,000,000. This shows that the country banks have been lending heavily in New York and that there has been only a shifting of loans and not a reduction, as the New York banks would have the general to indicate. For the period mentioned the country banks report an increase of $35,487,000 in loans. They also report a decrease of $68,722,000 in amounts due from reserve agents, which shows the cause of the loan expansion.

Fruits and Produce.

Every day adds to the quantity of fresh home-raised fruits and vegetables offering in the market, the showing of nearby stuff having reached such proportions as to cut considerable figure in trade. New peas, beets, strawberries and cherries are here this week, in addition to home garden products which have been in for a longer time. Huckleberries from North Carolina are coming forward in quotable quantities now, and sell at 7c to 15c. Blackberries are occasional arrivals, but are not yet plentiful. New potatoes adhere to the advanced figure which went into effect early in the week, while old stock is now in low and weak. PREPARATORY SCHOOL IS TO HAVE NEW HOME.

Site Bought in Fifth Avenue for the Alinda School.

TRAFFORD CITY A WINNER

Building Projects Are Badly Crippled by Scarcity of Structural Iron—Oil Refinery to Be Built on Neville Island—Flats for the Hill Tops.

The Alinda Preparatory school, now located at the corner of Fifth avenue and Craig street, is to have a new home in the near future on the north side of Fifth avenue, near Neville street, Twentieth ward. The deed for the site was secured yesterday from George H. Bennett for a consideration of $25,000; the deal having been handled by W. A. Herron & Sons. Title to the property is vested in a new concern called the Fifth Avenue Land Company, whose stockholders are all prominent residents of the Shadyside district. Among them are George B. Gordon, John G. Holmes, Wallace H. Rowe, Emmet Queen, A. J. Barr, Wills King and John W. Herron. The two lots which these parties have purchased for the Alinda school have a total frontage of 100 feet in the north side of Fifth avenue and a depth of 248 feet. Plans are to be prepared at once for a modern school building to cost at least $40,000. This will be built by the new company for Miss Ella G. Stewart, who has had charge of the school for some time. The new company is a close corporation and has taken up the project in order to have another first-class private school convenient to the Shadyside district.

A Big Sale in Prospect.

If the weather continues favorable the opening sale of lots at Trafford City tomorrow morning promises to eclipse every effort of this kind that has ever been put forth in the Pittsburgh district. The Real Estate Trust Company, which has the plan in charge, has been flooded for a week with inquiries about the new city, a large part of them coming from outsiders. Over 35,000 tickets have been distributed by the company through its agents in this city, and along the Pennsylvania lines, which entitle the holders to a free trip to Stewart station, as the new town was formerly called. The Westinghouse works will be closed to give their employes a chance to be present. It is expected that fully 10,000 people will be on the ground by noon and, judging by the interest manifested by prospective buyers, a large majority of the 900 lots will be disposed of before night. This project is the largest that the Westinghouse interests have attempted, and the site chosen for Trafford City has many advantages not possessed by their town sites, making it very popular with their employes as well as those persons who are seeking a convenient and healthy locality near Pittsburgh.

No Material for Frames.

The scarcity of structural iron is becoming a more serious drawback to building operations than was at first expected. To get steel on short orders is practically impossible, and in many cases deliveries have been delayed far beyond the limit specified. One project involving $400,000 is being held up, according to the statement of the promoter yesterday, solely because of the lack of steel. The contract involving about $200,000, was recently awarded to a well-known firm of contractors without the formality of bids, because this firm by having a yearly contract with the Carnegie Steel Company was in a position to get material at once. In Allegheny a $40,000 hotel is halted at the foundations for lack of structural material, and a number of similar projects over the city are in nearly as bad shape. Contractors are slow to bid on jobs requiring a large amount of steel as there is no certainty of getting it in time to enclose the structure before cold weather, and owners fear to accept bids for the same reason.

Oil Refinery for Neville Island.

A tract of 15 acres on Neville island, nearly opposite Emsworth, has been sold by M. T. Hamilton for $20,000. The purchaser is Jacob Metlar of Coraopolis, who secured the property for a syndicate of oil men. It is their intention to improve the purchase at once with an oil refinery costing about $100,000.

Architect William V. Brady has sold his residence, at the corner of Maryland and Kentucky avenues, Twentieth ward, for $14,000. The purchaser is Thomas Maple, will occupy the dwelling as a home. The lot is 50x120 feet and has erected thereon a 12-room house, on part payment for the residence Mr. Brady received a plot of vacant frontage, 175x70 feet, in Brownsville avenue, near the Knoxville incline, valued at $4,200. He has plans prepared for a 42-story brick apartment house, which he will erect on the property this summer, at a cost of $18,000. The building will contain 15 flats of five and six rooms each, and will be the finest structure of its kind in this neighborhood.

Building in Avonmore.

Ten frame houses, to cost $1,800 each, are being built by R. W. Davis at Avonmore, on a plot recently purchased from Ira C. Ewing, for $6,000. The lots measure 30x100 feet each and the properties will be ready for the September market. A fine colonial brick house is also being built in Avonmore by J. S. Stong, secretary and treasurer of the West Penn Foundry & Machine Company, on a lot, 40x100 feet, which he bought from Mr. Ewing for $600.

One of the most successful lot sales of the season is being made at "University Park." The central location of the plan is appreciated by homeseekers who wish to combine the advantages of the country with the conveniences of the city. Ground is being broken for a number of attractive residences, which will be ready for occupancy in the early fall, while many lot purchasers are preparing to build on their lots in the near future. Few other residence sections in this part of the state are so healthful.

CHICAGO STRIKE SETTLEMENT WAS CHEERED BY MEN

Bloodshed and Riot End in the Best of Good Feeling.

SUCCESS OF CONFERENCE

Both the Packers and the Teamsters Made Concessions at the Last and the Articles Were Ratified at a Mass Meeting at Noon.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, June 5.—After rioting and bloodshed that has not been equaled in this city since 1894, the differences between the teamsters and the packers here have been adjusted and the men will return to work tomorrow.

The agreement arrived at during the conference, which occupied nearly all of last night, was ratified by 500 teamsters assembled at Corcoran hall, near the stockyards, at noon today. The utmost harmony prevailed and the meeting, toward its close, assumed the aspect of a picnic crowd on a holiday, such was the good feeling.

The meeting lasted over two hours, much of the time being taken up in waiting for laggards to arrive. As was noticeable among the police there were numerous bandages and plasters on faces otherwise peaceful. The agreement was read to them and was greeted with cheers. The concessions made to the packers were explained and the explanation was applauded. The concessions made by the packers were likewise dilated on and there were more cheers.

John Myer, president of the local union, who read the agreement and did much of the explaining, called for an aye and nay vote. The chorus of ayes was deafening. The men stood on chairs, threw their hats into the air and brought ponderous fists down on each other's backs. Only a few of the men returned to the yards to resume work. The great majority of them, worn out with much fighting and long hours on picket duty, declared their intentions of putting in about 18 hours of sleep before again taking up the reins.

The provisions of the accepted compromise are as follows:

First. There shall be no discrimination against union teamsters.

Second. The scale of wages for teamsters shall be fair.

Third. No teamsters shall be compelled to work on Labor Day.

Fourth. Any teamster receiving more than the scale of wages stated shall not suffer a reduction of wages after this agreement goes into effect.

The following packing houses were represented at the conference, and for each packing house delegate there was a delegate from the teamsters: Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Nelson Morris & Co., Schwarzschild & Sulzberger, Libby, McNeill & Libby, Anglo-American Provision Company, Omaha Packing Company, and Lipton & Co.

A Tour to Boston.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has arranged for a delightful personally conducted tour to Boston on June 12, and have at their various offices, for free distribution, a booklet giving full information. A very low rate is named to cover all expenses. Tickets will be good until June 30.

FUND FOR THE FOURTH OF JULY ALMOST DOUBLED

New Record Was Established for One Day's Contributions.

U. S. STEEL CO. GAVE $5,000

Baltimore and Ohio Intends Making Panther Hollow the Excursion Terminus on Big Day—Other Roads May Also Adopt That Plan.

The Fourth of July fund was nearly doubled yesterday and the finance committee was in a joyful mood. Almost the first letter opened in the morning was one from the United States Steel Corporation containing a check for $5,000. Soon after came one of $500 from T. Mellon & Sons' bank, and later in the day came one of similar figures from the Farmers Deposit National bank. There were $100 contributions, and all day the money continued to come in a very gratifying way.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad proposes making Panther Hollow the terminus of all excursion trains into the city on the Fourth. Pittsburgh & Western and Bessemer railroad trains could be brought in the same way. If this is done, platforms will be built. The Pennsylvania railroad may bring some of its heavier trains into the park by using the Junction tracks.

Recorder Brown and Controller Larkin have agreed that it will be a good plan to pay the city employes on July 3, so they will have money for the Fourth. It will make a little extra work for the clerical forces of both offices, but the work will be as nothing compared to the pleasure that will be given the hundreds of city employes.

It is proposed to have the public school children participate in the ceremonies of the day by the singing of patriotic songs and the waving of flags as the president passes on the way to the park. Superintendent Samuel Andrews has notified Chairman Logan of his willingness to do anything in his power to have a good representation of the schools. He says the committee can have the services of any number of children desired, and would like to provide a chorus of 1,000 voices for the occasion.

RUMP COMMITTEES MEET.

Machine Men Continue the Lambie Force in a Spirit of Seriousness.

Some of the "rump" committees composed of select councilmen, appointed by President John S. Lambie of that body, in his frantic and farcical endeavors to embarrass the reform element in Pittsburgh councils, met yesterday and affirmatively recommended various ordinances and resolutions, most of which had already been acted upon by the regular joint committee, and some of which have been passed by the common branch.

In the surveys committee ordinances establishing grades were affirmatively recommended, as were a lot passed by common council for street improvements. The public safety committee only had a few resolutions authorizing the payment of warrants for the bureau of fire, and an ordinance authorizing a contract with James Reed & Sons to repair a fire engine. Thes were reported favorably. The filtration committee passed favorably on a batch of resolutions authorizing warrants. The public works committee acted favorably on an ordinance granting the right to build a bridge over an alley connecting the Marvin bakery with a building opposite, and on an ordinance providing for the purchase of a submarine diving outfit.
